

What Is It Like Inside Communist Russia? These Pictures Taken By An American Offer A Partial Answer

A View In A Moscow Slum Area

This picture of a slum area about 100 yards behind the American Embassy in Moscow was taken about mid-afternoon two weeks ago by Zander Hollander, University of Michigan graduate and one of three student editors who made a trip into Russia. (AP Wirephoto.)

Inside The Walls Of The Kremlin

Fifth Avenue—Moscow Style

NEBRASKA: Partly cloudy and mild Wednesday. Scattered light showers likely south central and extreme southwest Wednesday or Wednesday night. Highs Wednesday near 80.

U.S. Top Secrets Missing

New Deadly Spy Plot Is Hinted

NEW YORK (AP)—A Senate subcommittee—amid hints that a deadly new spy plot is unfolding—heard Tuesday that a "sizeable number" of top secret Army Signal Corps documents have disappeared.

Some of the missing documents reportedly dealt with radar, the very heart and soul of America's defense against enemy atomic attacks.

Said Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), whose investigations Subcommittee heard testimony that the secrets have been missing for two years.

"If they got into the hands of an enemy, they could be extremely dangerous to this country," he said.

The subcommittee has been probing the possibility of a Communist honeycomb at Ft. Monmouth, N.J., where the Signal Corps has a laboratory. Several civilian employees have been suspended there in recent weeks on security grounds.

The Army is conducting its own investigation of Ft. Monmouth and in Washington Tuesday, Defense Secretary Wilson told a news conference.

"It looks like it might be worse than just a security leak," he said.

He had been asked whether he thought espionage was involved at Ft. Monmouth or whether the whole to-do was over security leaks.

Wilson added that he had every confidence Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens and other Army officials will clear up the case.

Asked why the Army didn't investigate Ft. Monmouth before this, Wilson replied:

"I suppose it is like lots of other things that should have been done."

Stevens was in New York during the day, sitting in as a spectator at the closed hearings of McCarthy's subcommittee. Asked for comment on Wilson's remark, Stevens repeated what he had told newsmen earlier.

"The Army is investigating all installations and has been aware of the situation at Monmouth for a considerable period of time."

'Reorganization Must Not Hinder Vital Ag Services'

By JOHN SWANSON, State Farm Editor

The work must still be done and the important services maintained. This was the opinion Tuesday of both agricultural spokesmen and officers of Department of Agriculture agencies in Lincoln which would be affected by the plans to drastically change USDA organization. The plans were announced Tuesday by Secretary Benson and under them two agencies—the Production and Marketing Administration and the Bureau of Agricultural Economics—would transfer their duties to other agencies.

The plan also included the removal of seven original offices of the Soil Conservation Service and the "strengthening" of state SCS offices. One of these regional offices is in Lincoln.

No Word

Word of the new plan came from Washington and spokesmen for the offices in Lincoln said they had received no official word of the change. There was some confusion as to exactly what the new system would be, but there was some confidence that the result would not mean a desert of empty desks once occupied by USDA employees.

A. E. Anderson, State-Federal Agricultural Statistician who is in charge of one of the three Lincoln offices of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, said he thought that the removal of the regional Soil Conservation Service office as long as the state SCS offices are "kept in good shape."

"The state had been operating research centers well without federal direction before, and now I think they are well enough established to carry on all right without the regional offices over them. The big point here is that a state SCS office be maintained now."

He described the Bureau of Agricultural Economics as a "large bureau that has been very useful." It doesn't make any difference what it is called as long as the major services performed by the office are kept.

Located in Lincoln, besides the regional SCS office which is to be abolished, are the state PMA offices and three separate offices under the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

The Nebraska state offices of the PMA in Lincoln employ 55 persons, counting field men. The office is managed by Robert Webb, and policy control in the 18-year-old agency is vested in the three-man state committee. Present committee members are Parr Young, Owen Burton and Frank Reese.

Farm Level

The PMA, located in the First Trust Building, has a total payroll of approximately $200,000 a year. The function of the office is Webb said, to administer most of the federal farm programs on the farm level—including price supports, conservation, and acreage allotments and marketing quotas.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics is composed of three separate agencies in Lincoln, each reporting independently to its home office in Washington. The three are Bureau of Agriculture Estimates, Farm Management Research and Farm Population Research, and Land Economics Research.

The Bureau of Agriculture Estimates, headed by A. E. Anderson, is located in the post office building and employs 15 persons. The bureau collects and compiles agricultural statistics for use by the government, business and interested individuals. It has been located in Lincoln since 1914.

Farm Management and Farm Population Research are located in the Dairy Building at the College of Agriculture. A. H. Anderson handles population research and T. S. Thorfinsson handles management research. Both are associate professors at the college but are paid by the federal government. Anderson handles research on rural sociology, in conjunction with the college. Thorfinsson's research is mainly concerned with irrigation farming.

Land Economics, located at 134 So. 12th, is headed by Harry A. Steele. There are three full-time employees engaged in economic research on problems of resource development. The office has been in Lincoln since 1938 and in its present form since 1946.

Unofficial returns from 399 of the 401 precincts in the district's 11 counties in agricultural west central Wisconsin gave:

Johnson—27,790.
Padrutti—21,097.

Oddly in relation to politics elsewhere, Johnson keyed his campaign to a promise to vote the same way as his Republican predecessor, the late Rep. Merlino Hull, voted. Hull died last April at the age of 82. Today's election was for his unexpired term. The regular biennial election comes up in 1954.

Responsible For Band Day Program

3,600 Students Will March In Band Day

The beat of 7,200 marching feet will be heard in Lincoln Saturday afternoon during the half-time Band Day celebration at the University of Nebraska-Miami University football game.

The 3,600 high school students from all over Nebraska will represent 65 high schools and will be the guests of the university at the game.

A lunch will be furnished the preppers by the retailers' division of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce. The Lincoln Police Department will clear O St., 10th to 14th, between 4:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.

The high schoolers will follow the parade with a massed band performance during the half at the football game.

About 100 Boy Scouts under the supervision of the police will patrol O Street during the parade. Starting at 10th and Vine, the bands will move at 9:30 a.m. down 10th to O Street, east on O to 14th, north to R Street, west to 12th Street, and north on 12th to the Stadium.

Gamma Lambda, honorary band fraternity, is in charge of registration which opens at 8 a.m. at the Stadium. Frank Wells of Auburn is president of the organization. The band committee, headed by Stan Shumway of Lyons, is handling problems of organization and administration.

Col. James H. Workman, professor of military science and training, is in charge of seating and field arrangements and Maj. Earl W. Bihlmeyer is field marshal.

Assigned to Band Day activities are the following Army and Air Force personnel: Capt. George I. Darst; 1st Lt. Philip A. Beaumont; M/Sgt. Joseph Adams; M/Sgt. Francis M. Canavan; M/Sgt. Robert F. Proulx; SFC Delmer D. Hildebr; SFC Cassian A. Kusnierczyk; and SFC Horace L. Watkins.

Last year with the military in charge, the bands were moved on to the field at half-time in 1 minute and 10 seconds. Donald Lentz, conductor of the University Band, will direct the half-time show.

Two University student groups also have a part in the day's program. The University Builders, under the supervision of athletic department members L. F. "Pop" Klein and Tony Sharpe, will serve the snack lunch to the high school bandmen at noon. The Corn Cobs, men's pep group, will assist members of the Lincoln Police in details of the parade.

Violence Predicted By Allied Officers

U.S. Is Mum On Peace Talks 'Persuasion' Will Begin Thursday

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U.N. diplomats had conflicting answers Tuesday to the question of whether the United States has ruled out any face to face discussion with the Chinese Reds over who should attend the Korean peace conference.

Britain, closely consulted in drafting the latest note to Peiping on the subject, was reported to believe it had not.

India, which claims special links with Communist China, said it did.

The United States wasn't talking.

The note, sent to Communist China by the United States after consultation with its Korean Allies, offered to send a representative to meet with the Reds at Panmunjom Oct. 26.

It said he would discuss a time and place for the Korean political conference and appropriate procedural and administrative questions. The note said the U.N. delegate could discuss the makeup of the conference only "to the extent consistent" with an Assembly resolution which limited participation on the U.N. side to nations which sent troops to Korea.

The Reds have demanded that the conference be broadened to include such Asian neutrals as India, Burma and Indonesia. They wanted that subject taken up at the preliminary Panmunjom parleys.

Weeks Of Wrangling

This development followed an announcement by the U. N. Command—after weeks of wrangling—that it had completed constitution of the explanation committee where Communist teams will meet the balking prisoners in the neutral zone.

A meeting of the Military Armistice Commission at 4 p.m., today was asked by the Communists for a discussion of prisoner of war matters.

An Allied spokesman said the Reds did not indicate specifically what they had in mind.

School Site Contract OKd

Lincoln's Board of Education Tuesday approved a contract with Strauss Brothers Construction Company for purchase of a school site with building to start when at least 155 families have moved into the new Eastridge addition.

Also approved installation of three air raid sirens atop Hartley, Northeast and Irving schools.

An informal report was received by the board from Miss Esther Montgomery, who recently returned to Lincoln following a year's exchange teaching in England. She taught at Manchester, England.

She noted that American schools, while similar to those in England, are far advanced in many of their teaching methods and do not place the emphasis on drama that the English do. She said that while most of the schools in England are not co-educational, they are gradually coming around to the idea.

Rain Threatens—Not Much Else

The weatherman threatened to break Nebraska's elongated dry spell Tuesday night. But it apparently was only a threat.

A light trace of precipitation fell at Imperial. Distant lightning also was seen at other points in the area.

No other Nebraska points, however, reported precipitation. At McCook, the skies clouded up but then cleared away without any precipitation falling.

The North Platte weather bureau said Goodland, Kan., received a little rain.

Trenton, in drought-stricken Hitchcock County, reported no rain, but a spokesman there said Colby, Kan.—60 miles south—had received showers.

Crowds Of Up To 1,000 Greet Lincoln Sowers On State Tour

Crowds varying from 100 to 1,000 persons turned out to greet the Sowers, Lincoln's traveling representatives, as they visited 13 Nebraska towns on the first day of their two-day tour Tuesday.

The 58 Sowers, representing a galaxy of Lincoln business firms, left Lincoln 6:30 a.m. Tuesday and arrived at their first stop, St. Paul at 9 a.m.

Five-hundred people, the high school band and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce were on hand to greet them. School was dismissed for the event.

At Wollbach and Greeley 200 persons met the group and school was dismissed. Three-hundred and fifty were on hand at Scotia. Popcorn, crackers and cheese were distributed to the 200 greeters in North Loup, the last stop before lunch in Ord.

The 100 guests at Ord were entertained by entertainers from the Sowers. Wallace S. Payne presided for the Sowers. Mrs. Ahleen Papernik, president of the Ord Chamber of Commerce was the host.

A crowd of 1,000, the largest of the day, greeted the Lincolns in Burwell. Mayor John Speltz led the welcome with the high school band leading the parade through town. Taylor was represented by 200 persons and a band.

Sargent, Comstock, Ansley and Berwyn, with combined crowd of 1,000 were the last stops before

Claude L. Walker, Retired Telephone Worker, 76, Dies

Claude L. Walker, 76, 917 So. 34th, retired telephone worker, died Monday.

Mr. Walker had been a maintenance inspector for the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Born at Trenton, Mo., he was employed at Horton and Hiawatha, Kan., before he began working for the Lincoln company at Beatrice in 1912.

He was transferred to Lincoln in 1926 and had lived here since then. During World War II he was a telephone equipment foreman at the Mead Ordnance Plant.

Surviving are his wife, Martha E.; sons, Max C. of Lincoln and Harry E. of Tallahassee, Fla.; daughters, Mrs. Welton Grant and Mrs. Robert Wood, both of Lincoln, and Mrs. Quentin Wiles of Ogallala.

Lexington Rites For Peter Sell

Funeral and burial will be at Lexington for Peter John Sell, 43, 1121 G, service station attendant who died at his home Tuesday.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Sell of Edgelyville; a brother, Charles Sell of Ravenna, and a sister, Mrs. Ed Wallace of Sumner.

Mrs. Jeary Taken Ill; Condition Is Excellent

Mrs. Clark Jeary, taken suddenly ill Tuesday afternoon, was reported by her physician to be in excellent condition at Lincoln General Hospital.

Mayor Jeary was called from a meeting of the City Council when his wife was taken to the hospital. Mrs. Jeary, her physician said, will probably be back home in two or three days.

Her illness was diagnosed as the flu.

Quick Reaction

There was a quick reaction in Nebraska communities to the news reports of the collision which took place in Omaha last Friday night between a truck hauling ammunition and a passenger car.

The Grand Island City Council instructed its legal department to draft an ordinance prohibiting trucks carrying explosives, gasoline and other combustibles from passing through Grand Island.

In Omaha there was similar action.

From Hastings City Attorney A. P. Madgett came an opinion that municipalities which seek to rule ammunition trucks off the streets may find themselves in conflict with Interstate Commerce Commission regulations. Mr. Madgett has raised a question of widespread concern. On this page yesterday it was pointed out that there is a hearing on before the Interstate Commerce Commission which might give trucking companies a permanent right to the use of the highways in the transportation of what most people might regard as dangerous shipment. It is a long way from Nebraska's congested highways back to Washington, but certainly Nebraska does have an interest in the matter.

If speed is to continue to increase, that interest naturally will become greater. One development which receives so little attention in the battle for highway safety is that the trend the country over is towards more and more speed. Innumerable factors do contribute to highway fatalities. On paper, at least, a convincing case can be made not only for a more rigid attitude on maximum speed but also for limitations on minimum speed.

The trouble with this minimum speed stuff is that when all of the traffic is moving slowly, it is difficult to find automobile fatalities resulting from reduced speed.

Yalta Reappraisal

"... According to advance report, he (Churchill) justifies the decision reached there (at Yalta) with Stalin and Roosevelt in the light of military information then available. For Republicans, who have cultivated the belief that Yalta was a treasonable giveaway, this is heresy. Plainly Churchill has no intention of stepping down. And plainly, too, Churchill at half his powers is worth three or four of most men."—extract from the Childs column appearing on this page.

Yalta, it is to be assumed, and Yalta's decisions will continue to be one of the most flamingly controversial issues in American politics.

Another installment of Churchill's fascinating memoirs is about to come from the presses. In it Churchill discusses Yalta. He does so as the occupant of a ringside seat—better still, as one of the three participants. Whatever he says of Yalta is not said as an observer nor as a commentator, but as one who took part with the full knowledge of the logic or reasoning which led to the conclusions reached at Yalta.

One unique tradition of British political action leaves Churchill in a remarkable position to express judgment. When it comes to British politics and British foreign policy, controversy ends at the water's edge.

Churchill is a British Conservative, a dyed-in-the-wool British Conservative, the one man primarily responsible for the return of the Conservative party in Britain to power over British Labor. Without the towering prestige Churchill brought to the British Conservatives, without the widespread popularity which this squat, incredible character — so much a part of the modern world and yet so much a symbol of another Britain—enjoys, the British Conservatives could not expect to cut more than a sorry figure.

Churchill puts his finger squarely upon the heart of all controversy over Yalta. Decisions there had to be made in the light of available military information—decisions by men in a position to have every scrap of dependable information upon which they could proceed. It is so easy years later to conclude that this should have been done, or some different course should have been followed. Which is to say simply that a man's hindsight invariably averages better than his foresight. What Yalta's critics would have done had they been up against the gun, no one ever will know.

In Britain it is a recognized Conservative leader who gives his judgment of Yalta — a man who happens to be in the position of knowing more about it than any other living man. He will not endear himself to a great many of the conservatives in this country with whom he has been an idol nor will anything that he says contribute greatly to changing the minds of those Americans who already have passed judgment upon Yalta. Full appraisal of that historic conference freed from partisanship and prejudice will have to await an atmosphere of historic serenity. But Churchill, being Churchill, will write of Yalta, with supreme indifference to what others may think.

Stopping The Reds

The British had to unseat the recently elected leftist Cheddi Jagan regime in British Guiana. There was said to be evidence that the East Indian political leader meant to subvert that rum-and-sugar colony to Moscow-dominated Communism. Britain's gift of greater self-government, opening the way to economic and social improvement, went awry, narrowly missing the gift of a beachhead for Communism in the western hemisphere.

By international yardsticks, the Guiana incident is a small one, but it is interesting, nevertheless. It contains all of the elements that are dividing the "haves" from the "have-nots," points up the necessity of economic and social uplift as a prerequisite to political concessions and shows how a poor and hard-pressed people too frequently descend to Communism, not because of an understanding nor desire for it, but because there seems so little hope of improvement otherwise. The Guiana swing to the left was a reaction from colonial poverty, racial antagonism, widespread unemployment, poor diet, falling wages, low living standards and soaring cost of living. Political reforms missed the mark. Relief from misery and hopelessness should have preceded them.

Communism would use human misery to gain mastery, but it would not correct it. The defense against that is material relief and social uplift. America demonstrated that so well in post-war Europe. Many critics have inveighed against America's give-away programs, but the fact remains that Europe today is a bulwark against Communism and the policy paid off.

Tax Shifting

The louder the denials from Washington the more convinced the country becomes that a sales tax by one name or another will be attempted by the administration. This is evident because the idea was first broached by the administration which has since uttered such resounding denials. The public never had the idea in the first place. It is like the man who owns a watermelon patch. The fellow outside the fence who keeps protesting that he is not going to steal any is the one who has larceny at heart and had better be watched.

Dressed in any kind of clothes, a federal sales tax would be principally a tax-shifting device, taking the pressure off the higher bracket incomes and spreading it in another form on the lower income earners. Tax reduction, as some view it, means less income tax, not less money taken by government.

Eisenhower Seen As One-Term President

WASHINGTON — You can write it down as certain, as President Ike celebrates his 63rd birthday, that he isn't going to run again.

This is not entirely due to the inexorable march of time, which would make Ike older than any other President who was ever elected and lived through his term. Actually it is more due to the fact that the President just doesn't feel happy in the White House, living in a goldfish bowl, and, all in all, would rather get out.

He tires rather easily, gets irritated with his staff, shrinks from criticism, considers the job of backslapping congressmen an unnecessary bore.

Before he agreed to run, and while still in Paris, Ike told friends—including this writer—that he felt he could do a useful service to his country by cleaning up Washington, but that it would be a one-term assignment. He has made it clear since then that he intends to stick to that pledge.

BUSY FBI

The fact that the St. Louis police, not the FBI, captured Bobby Greenlease's kidnappers has caused some griping inside the FBI. The griping has been going on beneath the surface for some time, and is due to the fact that the FBI has become a huge interviewing agency, spending most of its time checking the loyalty of government employees.

Some FBI men, who look at their own organization frankly, say that's one reason why the famed Boston Brinks bank robbery is still unsolved and why the FBI pulled a couple of boners in the Greenlease kidnapping case.

Note—Actually it was the plan worked out by Dave Beck of the teamsters' union of putting taxi and truck drivers on the alert which helped materially in catching the criminals.

BANKING BONANZA

Sen. Harry Flood Byrd of Virginia is still griping at the Treasury because of a practice which most taxpayers don't know about—namely, they are supplying much of the money that the banks use to invest in government bonds. The catch is that the big banks don't pay the government any interest for using its money, yet the government pays millions to the banks as interest on its bonds.

What this amounts to is that the banks are loaning the government its own money, or, in other words, the taxpayers are paying for the privilege of borrowing their own money.

This method of enriching the big banks has so galled finance-minded Sen. Byrd that he has accused the Treasury Department of being a racket.

But even though he is going on 79, even though he has suffered an illness that would have removed most men of his age from the scene, he cannot be discounted. And the reason he cannot be lightly dismissed is that he speaks out of a whole heart in which one overwhelming desire is dominant.

That is as the last act in a great and full life to break the fateful stalemate between East and West and to take at least the first steps toward peace. There is a parallel between the voice of Churchill in 1940 and the voice of Churchill in 1953. Just as he did in that other and more acute crisis, so today he speaks the hopes, the passionate longing, of millions in the West who regard with dread and horror the abyss of atomic warfare.

In the light of cold reason, the negotiation of a pact with the Soviet Union to guarantee the peace may be as fruitless an approach as policy-makers here consider it to be. The advantage of a get-together of the heads of state of the Big Four may rest. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles believes, with Moscow rather than with the West. Dulles has long been convinced that such a meeting would be exploited by the Kremlin to underwrite the Russian hold on the satellites in the Communist empire.

But when that has been said, the great central fact of the prevailing desire throughout Western Europe for such an effort remains. One of the ablest Western diplomats expressed the dilemma as follows:

"I agree with Mr. Dulles that no substantial gain for the West could come out of such a meeting. I have said that repeatedly in my dispatches. My government does not agree with me. The political sentiment is too strong in favor of such a meeting."

The wind is shifting somewhat here on the specific conferences that have been the subject of prolonged discussion. Two weeks ago it was freely predicted in the State Department that the Korean political conference would never be held. Nor was there much concern at the prospect of a continuing status of no-peace-no-war in Korea. Now the unexpected response ment of paying the banks "subsidies." He demands that part of the money be withdrawn in order to reduce the public debt.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has admitted to Byrd that between $3,500,000,000 and $8,500,000,000 of the government's cash is kept on deposit in the nation's private banks. Officially this is spread among 11,000 banks, though actually almost half this tremendous deposit is salted away in four big New York banks, including the National City Bank of New York. Randolph Burgess, now a deputy to Secretary Humphrey, is a former executive of National City.

The banks don't pay a penny interest on all this money, which is why Sen. Byrd is up in arms.

IRATE FARMERS

Before President Eisenhower started on his Midwest farm trip Republican congressmen had warned him that farmers were so bitter at his secretary of agriculture, Ezra T. Benson, that he might have to be fired. The alternative, Ike has been told, would be a rural revolt against the Republicans and a crushing defeat in the 1954 congressional elections.

President Eisenhower, however, remains loyal to his hard-working, hard-praying secretary of agriculture.

Curiously, the pulse-taking congressmen, led by House Agriculture Chairman Cliff Hope of Kansas, have found that the farmers don't blame Eisenhower for their plight but are venting their wrath on Benson.

For example, the powerful Farm Bureau, which has backed Benson's policies, has been losing members in droves. In other areas, the local organization has revolted against the policy line handed down by the Farm Bureau in Washington and has come out against Benson.

The farmers' chief complaint is that Benson will let them down on price supports. His speeches make them suspect that he will remove supports just when farm prices are skidding down and farm costs shooting up. They also argue that if the Republicans are going to start curtailing government handouts, they should begin with big business, not the farmers.

Under the GOP, farmers point out, businessmen have been getting more tax amortization, tax loopholes, tariff protection, and outright subsidies than ever.

Farmers also complain that Benson has been listening to the big growers and marketing middlemen; paying little attention to the dirt farmer.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Churchill Works For East-West Tolerance

WASHINGTON—Like the Green Bay tree, Sir Winston Churchill flourishes beyond the expectation of friend and foe. His first speech since his illness contained little that was new and the tendency here is to write it off as more of the same.

But even though he is going on 79, even though he has suffered an illness that would have removed most men of his age from the scene, he cannot be discounted. And the reason he cannot be lightly dismissed is that he speaks out of a whole heart in which one overwhelming desire is dominant.

That is as the last act in a great and full life to break the fateful stalemate between East and West and to take at least the first steps toward peace. There is a parallel between the voice of Churchill in 1940 and the voice of Churchill in 1953. Just as he did in that other and more acute crisis, so today he speaks the hopes, the passionate longing, of millions in the West who regard with dread and horror the abyss of atomic warfare.

In the light of cold reason, the negotiation of a pact with the Soviet Union to guarantee the peace may be as fruitless an approach as policy-makers here consider it to be. The advantage of a get-together of the heads of state of the Big Four may rest. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles believes, with Moscow rather than with the West. Dulles has long been convinced that such a meeting would be exploited by the Kremlin to underwrite the Russian hold on the satellites in the Communist empire.

But when that has been said, the great central fact of the prevailing desire throughout Western Europe for such an effort remains. One of the ablest Western diplomats expressed the dilemma as follows:

"I agree with Mr. Dulles that no substantial gain for the West could come out of such a meeting. I have said that repeatedly in my dispatches. My government does not agree with me. The political sentiment is too strong in favor of such a meeting."

The wind is shifting somewhat here on the specific conferences that have been the subject of prolonged discussion. Two weeks ago it was freely predicted in the State Department that the Korean political conference would never be held. Nor was there much concern at the prospect of a continuing status of no-peace-no-war in Korea. Now the unexpected response from Communist China to the third American request for discussion on the details of a conference has tempered the skepticism. The change in the American attitude may be merely tactical — to allay the doubts of Asians and European representatives at the United Nations who were beginning to feel that the United States did not want a conference.

The danger is that American policy will seem to harden against any opportunity to relieve general and specific sources of tension. Aided and abetted by Communist propaganda, the impression will grow that the United States rules out all agreements. And the other side of the coin, in world opinion, is that consequently America must consider war with the Soviet Union as inevitable. That menacing word, "inevitable," frightens Europe to death.

One of Churchill's great strengths, evident again in his speech, is the way in which he bridges the past and the present. He spans the period of Britain's world responsibility for order keeping, the period of imperial grandeur, and the present when American power is transcendent and American leadership must therefore follow. Recognition of the changed order was implicit in all that Churchill said about the necessity for the fullest and frankest co-operation with this country.

In one phase of his amazing career Churchill has been historian and author. His autobiography covering the first part of his life is a magnificent account of the sunset glow of the Victorian era into which he was born. Ordinary mortals would happily settle for a fraction of the genius that Churchill has brought to this one phase of his life.

The Sixth and last volume of his history of World War II is to be published November 30. Kumor had it that he would step out as prime minister before publication of what will be the most controversial of all the volumes. In it he gives his version of what happened at the Yalta conference. According to advance report, he justifies the decisions reached there with Stalin and Roosevelt in the light of military information then available. For Republicans, who have cultivated the belief that Yalta was a treasonable giveaway, this is heresy.

Plainly Churchill has no intention of stepping down. And plainly, too, Churchill at half his powers is worth three or four of most men.

Values Of A Liberal Education

Liberal Learning For The Engineer

By ROY M. GREEN
Dean, College of Engineering and Architecture
(Sixth of a series)

Inscribed upon the walls in the library of the original Engineering Societies Building in New York City were these words: "Engineering—the art of organizing and directing men and of controlling the forces and materials of nature for the benefit of mankind."

1. Like other men in my profession, have adopted this statement as an adequate definition of engineering. It implies that the engineer must not only know the meaning of the laws of nature and how to utilize them, but also must understand the characteristics of man both as a producer and a beneficiary of production.

Since the characteristics of man and the meaning of his existence has been the intellectual pursuit of scholars through the ages, an engineer must be a student in the broadest sense. Like all other pursuits which challenge the best intelligence of man, engineering competence does not, and cannot, result from simply taking a pattern of courses in a college even though the student may pursue his studies until he has earned a Ph.D. degree.

On the other hand, complete competence in engineering would include the following:

1. An understanding of mathematics and the physical sciences; a knowledge of the characteristics of materials; familiarity with engineering methods—resulting in ability to analyze, design, construct, operate or manage engineering works or projects.

2. An understanding of economics and finance—resulting in ability to appraise the economic aspects of engineering works.

3. An understanding of the fundamentals of human conduct and the principles of management—resulting in ability to organize the efforts of individuals and groups in an effective prosecution of engineering works.

4. A facility in forms of expression—resulting in ability to discourse in written and oral form in the language of the arts as well as in the symbolic language of science.

5. An understanding of the evolution of the social organizations in which we live—resulting in ability to appraise the influence of science and engineering on their development.

6. Familiarity with the great documents of arts, morals, and religion—resulting in an appreciation of the dignity and worth of human personality, the principle of social justice, and the principle of sharing for professional and social gain.

7. An enthusiasm for learning—resulting in a burning desire to continue the study of engineering and to search for values in other fields of thought.

Such competence is the goal of a lifetime and not that of a brief academic interlude. The academic education in the purely technical field of engineering does not, and never did presume to equip the student with the requisite knowledge, or technique of practice which, per se, allow him to function as a professional engineer. The character of the technical courses in engineering curricula should be such that the student's time is utilized in attaining two major objectives.

First, that he understand the fundamentals upon which engineering is built, and second, that he catch the spirit of engineering to the degree that he will continue the studies which lead to ultimate professional competence.

In the academic span of the total education of the engineer only a beginning is made in the field of engineering practice. Likewise only a beginning should be attempted in the broad field of the humanities, relying in both cases upon the developed interest to carry the student toward his ultimate objective of professional competence.

Since the student's time in college is very brief, it should be devoted to the most important work which he can undertake at his particular age and experience in life. I sincerely believe that every course he takes should be justified by both the following tests:

1. It should serve as a positive aid in the ultimate achievement of at least one of the objectives, 1 to 8, and facilitate and assure later learning.

2. It should be a part of the total education which cannot be achieved after graduation without a much greater sacrifice of time.

As Dean of the College of Engineering and Architecture, I am much more concerned about what our graduates study and read after they have earned the degree than the particular courses they may take in school, so long as they understand the fundamentals of engineering and have taken courses meeting the two tests given above.

The process of education is never completed in college. No person is educated who ceases to be an enthusiastic learner as long as he lives. Yes, engineers believe in liberal learning.

Hauling Explosives

Omaha, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: When Mark Twain said, "Everyone talks about the weather but no one does anything about it," he may have issued a quotation that might apply to many things, and one of them might cover what is to be done about hauling dangerous commodities over the streets and highways.

The driver of an ammunition truck that exploded outside of Omaha is quoted as saying he was driving about 50 miles per hour when he struck the car with the elderly woman, three of whom died in the holocaust.

At that time of evening, it would be getting dark and it seems more precaution should have been used, and it seems, too, that that speed would be excessive for hauling dangerous explosives. During World War II the railroads hauled 97 per cent of the explosives without serious incident and if the government would let the railroads do the hauling now, it would keep these dangerous commodities off the streets and highways.

It might be necessary in case of emergency to have trucks haul these things but certainly no such emergency exists today, and anyhow railroads are better equipped to handle them.

V. C. GAFFNEY

Colorado's Pension

Hastings, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Smarting because of the injustice heaped upon them by a governor and legislature, the old folks will have a grain of comfort in knowing how other states respect and treat their aged citizens. There stands Colorado, where for the next three months of this year those with a maximum need will receive $100 a month, with married couples receiving $200. Wisely did several thousand Nebraskans leave this state for Colorado during the past decade. They sought social security and found it.

And nobody is hollering out there because such payments are being made to Colorado's respected aged. Twice at the ballot box, the voters have thrown back an attempt to divert some of those pension funds, the last time by 70,000 majority. And, too, there is nearly double the number of old age assistance in Colorado as compared to Nebraska.

The old folks are happy out there. Why shouldn't they be happy as they look over the state line and see what has happened to the aged in Nebraska? They need no "authorization" to get a prescription filled, no "authorization" to get a doctor. No, it is only in Nebraska where working men and women are hounded to support their aged, while excise taxes are grabbed from the assistance fund.

CECIL E. MATTHEWS

Nature Knows Best

Omaha, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The weather is always a safe topic to discuss because it concerns everybody and nobody can do anything about it. We have wise men in the east who can figure out how many bushels of corn, wheat and cotton the farmers are going to raise long before the crops have been planted, but so far they haven't been able to regulate the weather.

We have weather prophets who can tell by looking at the hush on the corn what kind of winter we are going to have. Then there are others who base their predictions on the stars and the moon, the bark on the trees and the feathers on the chickens. If the feathers are thick and heavy, then look out for a cold winter. Web-footed chickens indicate a wet spring and summer. However, the old-timers claim that in dry weather, all signs fail.

Wheat Holding Up Better Than Expected

27% State Corn Crop Harvested

Winter wheat throughout Nebraska is holding up better than expected on early plowed fields where the crop became well established with roots reaching the subsoil moisture, the State-Federal Crop Bureau said in its weekly crop-weather report.

"The crop needs moisture badly throughout the entire state," the bureau commented. "Some further damage from high temperatures and winds were reported. It has been nearly two months since moisture was received in the western half of the state and about six weeks since moisture was received in the eastern half of Nebraska."

About 27 per cent of the corn crop had been harvested up to last week end with corn picking much earlier than usual, it was reported. Because of the dry conditions much of the corn has dropped to the ground. A few farmers are reported picking by hand to save gleanings the fields after the mechanical pickers.

Feed Record Yields

"A few counties are reporting yields below expectations, while other counties are reporting yields above expectations and a few with record yields," the bureau stated. "Fields are very spotted and vary greatly, particularly in the southern part of the state. Some irrigated corn yields are not as good as last year due to the corn root worm."

Harvesting of potatoes is nearing completion. The crop was harvested under favorable conditions. One county reported dryland potatoes averaging over 200 bushels per acre, with irrigated yields up to 360 bushels.

A report on the sugar beet harvest indicates the crop is very good, although the sugar content has been a little low on some of the early harvested beets.

Good Soybeans Yield

Harvesting of sorghum for grain and soybeans is also nearing completion. While yields vary, both of the crops have turned out better than expected. The yield of soybeans on irrigated land is very good.

The condition of pasture is abnormally low. Much more hay and other feed will be required, the bureau said, because of the lack of pasture. Range in the Sandhills is plentiful but the dry, dusty condition makes range feed unpalatable. A good rain to wash off the dust and soften up the range would improve it.

Stocks of feed grains are said high, but there are a few southern counties reporting a shortage.

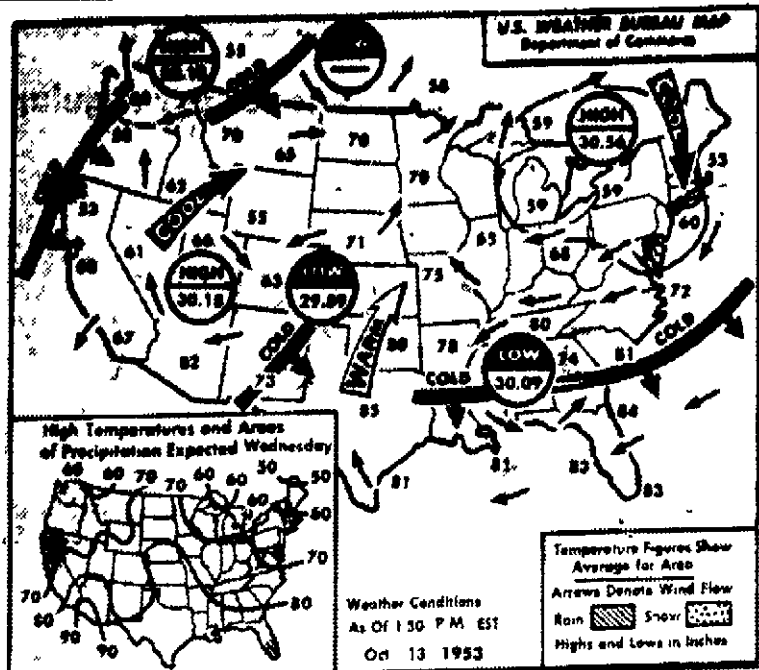

Rainfall reports for the past week were limited to the following:

Annual Niobrara Basin Meet Set

AINSWORTH, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special)—The seventh annual meeting of the Niobrara River Basin Development Association will be held at Hay Springs, Tuesday, Oct. 20.

This group was organized as a result of interest in the potential reclamation development of the Niobrara basin. The association has three directors from each of the 11 counties within the basin. The Bureau of Reclamation, in co-operation with the Army corps of engineers, University of Nebraska and other interested federal and state agencies, has carried on investigations in the basin area since 1946, and in 1952 completed the preliminary basin report.

According to Vern P. Lindholm, president of the development group, the business session of the association will begin at 10 a.m. MST, at the Veterans Hall. A directors meeting and the election of officers will follow.

A tour, headed by Russell Bate, agriculture economist with the Soil Conservation Service of the Mirage Flats Irrigation Project, will be held during the afternoon. The day's session will close with a banquet and speaking program.

Talbot Girl's Brother Will Be Sent Home

RUSHVILLE, Neb. (AP)—The Red Cross reported Tuesday that the brother of the slain Karen Talbot of Rushville is being sent home from Japan to attend funeral services for the 13-year-old schoolgirl whose body was recovered from a wind-swept pasture grave near Rushville Saturday.

The brother, Jimmy, is a Marine stationed in Japan.

Funeral arrangements for Karen have been held up pending word on Jimmy's possible arrival home on emergency furlough.

Duane McLain, 19, who admitted the Aug. 20 slaying of Karen and told authorities where to find the body remains at an undisclosed western Nebraska jail.

Authorities have continued to question Duane McLain about the case, getting more details and pursuing various angles. He is expected to be taken to Lincoln eventually for safe-keeping. McLain pleaded guilty to first degree murder at an arraignment in County court Saturday but still faces trial in District court. A District court trial is mandatory on a charge of this sort.

State's Cattle On Feed Drops Five Per Cent To 312,000

The state and Federal Crop Reporting Service Tuesday estimated there were 312,000 head of cattle on feed in Nebraska Oct. 1.

That was 5 per cent below a year ago. The service pointed out that marketings during the past quarter were nearly one-half greater than last year.

Between July 1 and Oct. 1 shipments of stocker and feeder cattle to county points were 14 per cent below last year and the smallest for the period since 1947.

Price Down

"Although prices for replacement cattle were down sharply for the second straight year, fewer cattle were placed on feed than a year ago. For the week ending Sept. 24 prices for feeder cattle at Omaha averaged $16.91 per hundredweight, or $8.91 below 1952 and $17.79 below mid-September 1951," the report stated.

But despite the cheaper feeder prices, some feeders have indicated that fixed corn prices will prevent any sizeable reduction in cost of grains and that feeding risks may again be present this year.

During the next three months feeders expect to market 63 per cent of the number on feed compared to 58 per cent last year. The number totals 197,000 with 81,000 scheduled for October, 47,000 in November and 69,000 in December.

YOU'VE HEARD ABOUT ANTI-ENZYME ACTION! IT'S NEWS!

AMM-I-DENT

Anti-Enzyme Action

The Amazing Invisible Decay Barrier!
You can't see it, feel it or taste it—but it's there! Amm-i-dent's major anti-enzyme ingredient acts continuously to help ward off attack by enzyme-produced acids. Every tooth is protected while this invisible decay barrier is in effect!

Saturday Evening Post, American Weekly and Better Homes and Gardens give unbiased, conservative reports on anti-enzyme action. Remember, Amm-i-dent did not sponsor these articles, nor the research behind them; nor is Amm-i-dent named. Be sure to read them!

New Hope for Security from Decay came first with ammoniated Amm-i-dent. Now, research shows that Amm-i-dent's anti-enzyme ingredient gives continuing protection. Brush morning and night. The average family will have far fewer cavities with Amm-i-dent!

More Dentists Recommend Amm-i-dent Than Any Other Toothpaste in America! Dentists knew about the anti-enzyme theory of tooth decay prevention before the general public. They know what toothpaste is best! They recommend Amm-i-dent more than any other.

GIVES YOU A DECAY BARRIER

AROUND EACH AND EVERY TOOTH IN YOUR MOUTH!

YOU CAN'T SEE IT, TASTE IT OR FEEL IT—BUT IT'S THERE!

Anti-enzyme action brings new hope of defeating tooth decay for good and all. And Amm-i-dent Toothpaste brings you anti-enzyme action, two ways:

1. Instantaneously, with an ingredient which removes the vast majority of all enzyme-producing bacteria from the surface of the teeth.

2. Continuously, with an ingredient that actually stays in the mouth with an enzyme-inhibiting action. This is the astonishing decay barrier, which surrounds each and every tooth in your mouth with double, long-lasting protection. There's never been anything like it to protect against cavities! Amm-i-dent's ammoniated, anti-enzyme formula is patented and exclusive.

Think what Amm-i-dent's decay barrier with anti-enzyme action can mean — particularly to the children. Remember the cavities you've had, and count how many the children may be spared by this wonderful discovery!

Both Amm-i-dent Chlorophyll Toothpaste and regular pure white Amm-i-dent have Amm-i-dent's anti-enzyme formula that sets up a decay barrier around each and every tooth. You can get it at your stores right now.

Tax Committee Calls Grand Island Meet

Armstrong To Preside At Forum

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—Tax-conscious Nebraskans will converge on Grand Island Oct. 20 for an all-day meeting to discuss tax problems and possible solutions.

The meeting was called by a special tax committee named several weeks ago at a meeting in Lincoln called by several Nebraska Chambers of Commerce. Chairman of the committee is Arch W. Jarrell, editor of the Grand Island Independent.

The meeting Oct. 20 will start at 10 o'clock in the morning, after registration of those present. There will be a luncheon at noon and the meeting will be resumed in the afternoon.

All sessions will be at the Hotel Yancey.

A tentative agenda for the session includes, in the morning, a statement of the tax problem by Robert M. Armstrong, executive secretary of the Nebraska Citizens' Council, who will preside at an open forum discussion.

The afternoon session will open with a discussion of property tax administration and on assessment equalization.

The latter part of the afternoon will include a discussion of new forms of taxation that might be possible as a means of relieving the owner of real estate and personal property.

If the meeting approves, a permanent tax study committee will be appointed at the conclusion.

County Road Crash Claims Woman's Life

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—Mrs. Nellie V. Price, 29, Wood River, was injured fatally Tuesday in a car-truck collision at a county road intersection four miles west of Alda in Hall County.

The car driven by Mrs. Price was in collision with a truck operated by Harry King, 48, of Wood River. Mrs. Price died later at a Grand Island hospital. She suffered multiple fractures and internal injuries.

King also was hospitalized in Grand Island with a fractured lumbar vertebra and possible other injuries.

This, according to Lt. Guy Smith of the State Safety Patrol, is what happened:

No Skid Marks

Mrs. Price was traveling north and King, hauling a load of corn, was headed east. The intersection was open but Mrs. Price apparently did not see the truck until just before the crash. There were no skid marks from either vehicle.

The front of the Price car hit the right front section of the truck and then slid under the truck bumper. The truck's momentum carried the two vehicles about 47 feet and the car was shoved into the ditch. The truck overturned and came to rest on top of the car.

Pinned In Car

Mrs. Price was pinned inside the car but King was thrown clear.

Mrs. Price, wife of C. L. Price of Wood River, thus became Nebraska's 251st traffic accident victim of the year. Last year at this time Nebraska had counted 267 such fatalities.

Yugoslavs Spurn Soviet Aid In Explosive Trieste Dispute

BEGRAD (INS)—Yugoslav officials spurned Russia's support Tuesday in the boiling Trieste issue, which exploded in more violence in Belgrade Tuesday.

One government official said Communist Yugoslavia, which broke with Moscow in 1948, does not "welcome" Soviet backing in the dispute with Italy.

He referred to Russia's notes to the United States and Britain Monday protesting their decision to transfer administration of the Allied zone A in the Trieste territory to Italy.

Another official said: "We are ready to fight the case alone." For the second straight day, angry Yugoslav mobs demonstrated against the United States and British libraries in the capital, attacking persons trying to enter them.

The Yugoslav Communist newspaper Borba said the mob attack Monday on William B. King, U.S. information officer, was provoked by "incorrect and slanderous reports" of Marshal Tito's speeches published in the official U.S. news bulletins.

Trieste, a 320 square mile area on the Adriatic was taken from Italy after World War II. Yugoslavia occupied zone B, Britain and the United States zone A. Yugoslavia acted violently to the British-American decision to hand over their zone to Italy. President Tito threatened to use force if Italian troops march into the big port city.

Tito has demanded a four-power conference of the U. S., Britain, Yugoslavia and Italy to settle the dispute. There was talk France might be called in as mediator. French Ambassador Philippe Boudet called on Deputy Foreign Minister Ales Bebler as tension mounted.

Dulles To Attend London Big Three Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department announced Tuesday Secretary of State Dulles will fly to London for a "Big Three" foreign ministers' conference starting Friday to discuss the explosive Trieste situation and other world trouble spots.

High Yugoslav officials continued to warn of serious trouble to come if the United States and Britain go through with their decision to turn over part of disputed Trieste to Italy. Koca Popovic, Yugoslav foreign secretary, said after an hours' conference with Dulles that his government would resist the decision "with all means."

In Belgrade, tens of thousands of angry Yugoslavs paraded the streets in demonstration against the decision. Cries of "give us rifles" were heard.

Popovic said Dulles gave no immediate answer to a Yugoslav proposal for a four-power conference to settle the Trieste issue. The foreign minister quoted Dulles as saying he must first "consult with other governments concerned."

May See Churchill
Dulles will leave here Wednesday night to meet with British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault. He is expected to remain in London until Sunday.

State Department officials said Dulles may very well see British Prime Minister Churchill.

TEACHER'S HIGHLAND CREAM BLENDED SCOTCH WHISKY

ish Prime Minister Churchill. Among other problems, the foreign ministers may also discuss the question of non-aggression guarantees to Soviet Russia in a move to ease global tensions. However, officials said there was no certainty this topic would come up.

They said the questions of top-level "Big Four" talks—to bring together President Eisenhower, Soviet Premier Malenkov, Churchill and French Premier Laniel—could and probably would be talked over. The idea of such talks has found more favor with the British than with the United States.

The State Department's announcement of the surprise London conference came shortly before Russia turned to a new tack in the developing Trieste crisis.

At U.N. headquarters in New York, Chief Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinskiy demanded that the United Nations Security Council convene "posthaste" to set up an international administration, under a Swiss governor, for Trieste.

Vishinskiy proposed that the 11-nation Security Council establish complete independence for the entire Trieste territory within three months after the appointment of a governor.

This would mean withdrawal of American and British troops from Zone A and Yugoslav troops from Zone B in the long-disputed territory.

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer
Proposed conversion of Lancaster County's Westview Nursing Home into a "convalescent hospital" moved nearer reality Tuesday.

Following a study tour of existing facilities by the commissioners and state and county health officials, Board Chairman Russell Brehm said:

1. That a Lincoln architectural firm would be employed "within the next few days" to make a preliminary survey for plans and costs estimates for the proposed conversion.
2. That application for a "convalescent hospital" license would be made to the State Department of Health "probably in the next 30 days."

Cost Estimated
Brehm estimated at $5,000 to $8,000 the cost of conversion of facilities to meet "minimum requirements" for approval as a convalescent hospital.

These would include nurse stations, some alterations in the hot water supply, remodeling and enlargement of kitchen, an emergency power plant ($1,800 cost-estimate) and employment of a registered nurse. Most personnel would be practical nurses.

If successful during the first years' operation, Brehm said, additional improvements toward meeting "maximum requirements" could be made on a long-range basis.

Conversion of the Westview Home, formerly the county poor farm, into a convalescent hospital to care for old age medical assistance cases is hoped to cut the anticipated $360,000 over-riding medical expense that the county must assume beginning Jan. 1, 1954.

Over $200,000 of this amount is expended for private nursing home care of some 250 assistance patients, according to Brehm.

"If a cut in medical costs is to be made, it will have to come partly in nursing home expenditures," he explained.

Under federal law, no county-owned facilities except hospitals can be used for the care of old

Council Again Vetoes Sidewalk Re-Hearing

The City Council has turned down for the second time a resolution by Councilman Rees Wilkinson for Council reconsideration of action taken several weeks ago ordering in a sidewalk on L from 44th to 48th.

Wilkinson proposed his resolution after Attorney Willis Hect told the Council that residents between 44th and 45th were not in favor of the walk. The walk, he said, would be very costly to some property owners and the area has no walks around it.

age assistance cases and thus receive federal funds, according to Commissioner Chauncey Barney.

Barney, who is chairman of the County Welfare Board, said use of the present plant as a nursing home "proved to be in dollars and cents a wise move."

If further use of the facilities can be made by expansion into the field of care of assistance patients (in addition to the relief category), the move should be made, he said.

Fill Gap
Barney believes the county "convalescent" hospital would fill "an existing gap" between nursing home care and general hospital care.

The county hospital would care for "terminal illness" and "convalescent" patients, which can not be placed in nursing homes but do not require general hospital care.

Survey showed old age medical assistance patients average the "longest stay" in hospitals, relief patients follow, and private cases the least number of days, he said.

It is estimated that Westview has ample space for 80 to 90 patients. Presently about 25 relief patients are housed there.

State and county health officials who accompanied the Commissioners on the tour included Vern Pangborn, hospital division director in the State Department of Health and Dr. James T. Googe, Lincoln-Lancaster County Health Director.

6 New State Polio Cases Reported

City	Oct. 14	Oct. 14	Total

County	18	211	229
State	208	1,811	2,019

Six new polio cases in the state last week brought the 1953 total to 203, which is less than 10 per cent of the 2,252 cases recorded during 1952.

There have been no new cases in Lancaster County for five weeks.

New cases last week were two in Valley County and one each in Butler, Dawes, Lincoln and Sheridan Counties.

Labor Relations Are Praised

State AFL Meet Hears Gov. Crosby

SCOTT'S BLUFF (AP) — Gov. Robert Crosby told delegates to the annual Nebraska Federation of Labor (AFL) convention here Tuesday that labor relations in Nebraska advanced greatly in the last 12 years.

He pointed to his appointment this spring of James Weasmer as head of the state labor department, and said it is "a credit to me, a credit to you, and a credit to the State of Nebraska."

The Governor spoke at the afternoon session of the labor group at a meeting presided over by Gordon C. Preble, state federation president. At the conclusion of the Crosby speech Preble told the Governor the labor group plans to continue its fight against the use of prison labor in competition with private industry and for increase in salaries of state employees.

Crosby reminded his listeners that he vetoed the 40-hour week law passed by the last Legislature and said he did it because "the Legislature had no intention of providing necessary funds to make the law workable."

Study Continues

The governor said a study into possible salary increases and holiday and other benefits "on an equitable basis" is still being made.

The study will be carried out in the best interests of all concerned, the governor said, pledging to do what he can for labor in the state.

Don Devries, executive director of the Associated Industries of Nebraska, addressed a morning session of the convention delegates.

Nelson Cruikshank of Washington, D. C., director of AFL Social Security activities, followed Crosby on the rostrum and took a slap at Nebraska Rep. Carl Curtis (R-Neb.) of the state's first district.

He said Nebraska has a key role to play in Social Security decisions now pending because Curtis is a member of the Ways and Means Committee and chairman of a subcommittee delegated to study the Social Security program.

Curtis Rapped

Curtis, Cruikshank charged, is on record against the program.

He said Curtis has made a great point in talks of his intention to study Social Security, but insisted labor leaders are convinced that he is against the program.

He pointed to Curtis' refusal to support President Eisenhower's plan to bring 10-million more people under Social Security on his subcommittee staff; signed the minority report against liberalization amendments in 1950 and voted for the Gearhardt amendment in 1948 taking 750,000 people out of Social Security.

Harry O'Reilly, director of organization for the AFL spoke at an evening meeting which concluded the day's activities.

Weasmer will address the convention Wednesday. The convention will end Wednesday afternoon with election of officers and naming of a 1954 convention city.

City Library Board Tours Facilities

All branches of the Lincoln City Library were visited by the library board Tuesday afternoon and the physical condition of the installations and the service facilities were studied.

In the meeting that followed the tour the possibility of organizing a library association to further the service of the library through public information and endowments was discussed.

The need for a southside branch library was discussed and the problem assigned to committee for further study.

Financial operations of the library and the audit report were reviewed by the board.

Siegel Wins VFW Good Citizenship Award

commander; Francis Booth, commander of Post 131, and Siegel. Owen and Booth presented Siegel with the joint state and local award at the regular VFW meeting Tuesday. The award is not an annual award but is presented when merited, Owen explained. (Star Photo.)

Hall Expects Death Penalty In Greenlease Slaying Case

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The kidnapers who shot and killed a bitterly struggling 6-year-old boy and then collected $600,000 ransom from his parents were brought back to Kansas City Tuesday to face the death penalty.

Carl Austin Hall, 34, the wastrel turned killer, said he wanted to plead guilty and expected the death sentence. It was he who shot little Bobby Greenlease, son of Kansas City's millionaire automobile dealer, Robert C. Greenlease. Then he set out on the coldly calculated plan to collect the ransom.

But Mrs. Bonnie Heady, who helped prepare the child's lime-filled grave even before she stole him away from his private school, was stoical. She once had hoped she might get off with a lighter sentence—if she were caught.

Whether that meant she knew where the missing $300,000 of the ransom money is, officers could not or would not say. Half of the money was found in Hall's possession when his spending spree in St. Louis brought about his arrest Oct. 6, eight days after the kidnaping.

But Hall says he thinks she had the money and probably lost it during a heavy drinking bout in St. Louis after the pair had made their getaway.

Before the pair was brought back here, Mrs. Heady told a cell mate in St. Louis the gruesome details of the killing. Her only regret, she said, was that she hadn't been able to get her hands on the ransom.

"I'd rather be dead than poor," she said. She added that she hoped she might get a light sentence, maybe 25 years, that could have got her out of prison on good behavior in seven years.

"That $300,000 wouldn't have been too bad for only seven years," she said.

MISS VIRGINIA HOLLOWAY

Wedding In January

Mr. and Mrs. Hayden H. Holloway are this morning announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Virginia, to Robert Douglas Osmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Osmann of Escondido, Calif.

The wedding will take place in early January.

To Celebrate Anniversary

Mr and Mrs. E. R. Schniebert will observe their golden wedding anniversary on Wednesday at a family dinner to be held at Cotner Terrace. Following the dinner, a reception honoring the couple will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Schniebert's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Schniebert, 1915 Harwood.

Friends are asked to call between the hours of 7 o'clock and 9 o'clock without further invitation.

Attending the family dinner will be Mr and Mrs. Schniebert's six children and eleven grandchildren. Coming from out of town will be Mr and Mrs. Lawrence Schniebert of Cincinnati, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schniebert of Long Beach, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Schniebert of Billings, Mont.; Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Schniebert of Omaha, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mooberg, Grand Island. Completing the family group from Lincoln will be Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schniebert and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Schniebert.

Wooden Spoon Holds Dinner

The October dinner-meeting of the Wooden Spoon was held Tuesday evening when the group met for dinner at the Danish Lutheran Church in Davey. The evening hours were spent informally when the members told of their summer vacations.

PINK DAWNS, crimson sunsets, and a rosy outlook as far as the social picture is concerned, give definite accents to the bright blue that, allegedly, is an exclusive as far as October's weather is concerned—Then of course, more color is added to the current month by way of weddings—and brides-elect, and courtesies for the soon-to-be brides.

Hear that one of our November brides, Miss Adele Coryell, whose marriage to Donald J. Hall takes place on Nov. 28, and Miss Barbara Stephens will be hostesses next Tuesday evening when they entertain at a dessert supper at the home of Miss Stephens—The party invites are Miss Sandra Lotman who is to marry Richard Rosenthal of Dallas, Tex., on Saturday, Nov. 28, and Miss Mary Margaret Loomis who has chosen Sunday, Dec. 27, as the date of her marriage to Richard Moulton.

AND THIS morning Miss Lotman is announcing the members of the bridal party which will include Mrs. Eugene D. Brown of Kansas City, who will be her sister's matron of honor and only attendant, and

BSP Chapter Hears Speaker

A talk on how to prepare and deliver a speech was given by William Ferguson at the regular meeting of Alpha Tau Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, Mr. Ferguson, a member of the Lincoln Toastmasters Club, was introduced by his wife, a member of the chapter.

Mrs. Ray Potter, president, conducted the meeting held at the chapter rooms, after which refreshments were served by Mrs. Albert Pekar and Mrs. Ross Lane.

Hubert S. Rosenthal of Dallas, who will serve his brother as best man.

The ceremony will be solemnized at 7 o'clock in the evening at the home of the bride's parents.

TURNED the page in our brides' book and discovered that Miss Coryell has added more courtesies to her already long list—A week from next Saturday Miss Coryell will be complimented by Miss Clara Evans who has invited guests for a 1 o'clock luncheon at the University Club. Following the luncheon Miss Coryell will be presented with a hostess gift.

The following Wednesday, Oct. 28, is the day of the luncheon for which Mrs. C. Robert Fulton and her daughter, Miss Sarah Fulton of Kansas City—an airline stewardess for the Transcontinental World Airlines—will be luncheon hostesses at the home of Mrs. Fulton. The bride-elect will be presented with a gadget shower.

IN THE MORE immediate future is a football game and all of its attending festivities—and guests—And this morning we are particularly interested in the guests who will be in town for the Miami-Nebraska game on Saturday afternoon.

From Omaha, so someone told us, are coming Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Levitt and their son, Tommy, who will be the week end guests of Mrs. Levitt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Gold.

MORE WEEK END guests from Omaha will be Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Crawford, III, who will come for the game and to spend the week end with Mrs. Crawford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Corp.

FROM SIOUX CITY, Ia., for the game week end will come Dr. and Mrs. H. N. Hirsch and their son, Stephen, and we hear the threesome will be the guests of Dr. Hirsch's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hirsch.

ALSO ON LINCOLN'S guest list this week end will be Airman 2c and Mrs. G. Baker Matthews who will be arriving from Smokey Hill air force base, Salina, Kan., to be the house guests of Mrs. Matthews' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Morris—The visitors are arriving on Thursday—in time to attend the pre-nuptial dinner for which Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morgan will be host and hostess when they honor their daughter, Miss Lynne Morgan and Mrs. Matthews' brother, Lewis G. Morgan, whose marriage takes place on Friday, Oct. 16.

BUT WE CAN'T leave guests and the week-end until we tell you that Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. (Kv) Rohman are to be host and hostess at a 5 30 o'clock to 7 30 o'clock post-game party at their home.

at a kitchen shower at home at 7 30 o'clock. Sixteen guests have been invited.

Another bride of Oct. 24 is Miss Loretta Bullock, whose marriage to Darrel Stotts will be solemnized at 8 o'clock at the Second Presbyterian Church. Miss Ethel Sovereign and Miss Eunice Hoyt will entertain in honor of their niece, Miss Bullock, at a linen shower on Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Christensen will entertain at a pre-nuptial dinner on Wednesday eve, Oct. 28, honoring their daughter, Miss Lois Christensen, who will marry Gayle Gardels on Thursday, Oct. 29, at Grace Lutheran Church. The party will be at 7 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Christensen, and will be followed by a wedding rehearsal at the church.

Among the out of town guests at the dinner will be the grandmothers of the bride and bridegroom-elect, Mrs. Marie Christensen, of Minden, and Mrs. Gustav Metzner, Wilcox.

MISS ALICE MARIE STEHLY

Betrothal Announced

Mr and Mrs. F. J. Stehly of Elgin announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Alice Marie, to Dennis E. Sweeney, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Sweeney of Lincoln.

The wedding is planned for Friday, Nov. 27.

Miss Stehly is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, where she is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority, and now is a member of the Junction City, Kan., public schools faculty.

Mr. Sweeney attended the University of Nebraska and is a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity.

Faculty Wives To Entertain

The University of Nebraska Faculty Wives Club will hold their first tea of the fall season on Wednesday afternoon between the hours of 3 o'clock and 5 o'clock. The affair will be held at the chancellor's residence, 2110 A.

Chapter V, PEO Meets Saturday

Mrs. David Mickey will be hostess to the members of Chapter V, PEO, at a 1 o'clock luncheon on Saturday at her home, 6741 Colby.

Assisting Mrs. Mickey will be Mrs. R. E. Cressey, Mrs. Ellis Hartsook and Mrs. Carol Story.

Square Dance

The Singer-Swingers Square Dance Club will meet Friday evening at Park School with Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Christiansen and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Bergman as hosts and hostesses.

MISS BEATRICE HUBER

MRS. CHARLES M. STAPLES

Mr and Mrs. George Huber of Nebraska City this morning announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Beatrice, to Arthur W. Adams Jr.

The wedding will be an October event.

Miss Huber is a graduate of the Bryan Memorial Hospital school of nursing, and at present is on the nursing staff of the San Diego county hospital. Her fiancé recently was discharged from Navy duty. After the wedding Mr. Adams and his bride will reside temporarily in San Diego, but later will go to Texas where Mr. Adams will attend school.

Before her marriage on Friday, Oct. 9, Mrs. Charles Michael Staples was Miss Patti Jo Pierson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Pierson.

The ceremony was solemnized in Salina, Kan., where the couple now is residing at 125 East Minneapolis St.

Airman 2/c Staples, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Staples of Detroit.

Mrs. C. G. Flynn; and publications, Mrs. Walter Wright.

Proceeding the monthly meeting of RILEY PTA, Tuesday afternoon, the teachers joined the members at an informal coffee while the home room mothers were in charge of the various classes.

Mrs. Frank Glick presided at the meeting when plans for the annual Fun Night on November 20, and the open house on December 11, were discussed. A talk on "Parent-Teacher Relationship," was given by Miss Frances Walters, director of guidance at Northeast school.

The group also made plans for a pre-school nursery to be held during regular PTA meetings, and asked parents to contribute toys for the nursery.

Mrs. Roberta Stanton of the Lincoln city library's children's department spoke to the members of CAPITOL PTA Tuesday afternoon on the subject, "Books: Growing Up With Our Children."

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Vernon Vogt, president, after which a social hour was held. Hostesses were Mrs. Joyce Amen, Mrs. L. E. Young, Mrs. F. L. Massie, Mrs. M. R. Baker, Mrs. Merrill Liebig, Mrs. Ed Harbman and Mrs. W. L. Hudson.

Mrs. Ward Conklin, character and spiritual education chairman, opened the Tuesday afternoon meeting of WHITTIER PTA, at which Mrs. A. C. Wehr, president, presided. The program, under the direction of Henry Ross, featured students of James Wittstruck who presented a science demonstration. Students participating were Beth Dering, Carine-lita Aguilar, Connie Lou Hansen, Billie Arnold, David Fauss, James Jacobson, Judy Summers and Norma Brehm.

The group discussed plans for the annual variety show to be held Nov. 20, after which refreshments were served by the hostesses. Mrs. Victor Groth, Mrs. J. G. Dering, Mrs. John Schwindt, Mrs. John Moeller and Mrs. Aubrey Corn. A guest for the afternoon was Mrs. Fred Sehner of the PTA city council.

Guest speaker at the meeting of HAVELOCK PTA Tuesday afternoon was the Rev. Edward L. Jemby, minister of the Fourth Presbyterian Church, who discussed, "World Understanding."

Mrs. Floyd Parker presided at the meeting and announced a tea for the home room mothers to be held at 2 o'clock, Friday afternoon. The annual open house program will be held at 8:30 o'clock, Tuesday evening, Oct. 27.

Hostesses for the social hour were Mrs. Carl Bachenburg, Mrs. Frank Svoboda, Mrs. Joseph Vaverka, Mrs. Frank Coffman Jr., Mrs. Clarence Rediger, Mrs. Gilbert Laws, Mrs. Edward Evans, Mrs. Ralph Harmon, Mrs. G. Wayne Dority and Mrs. Clarence Smith.

Living Policyholders Got $14 Million

Payments to living policyholders in Nebraska from their life insurance companies were $14,312,000 in 1952, which was 54 per cent of the year's total life insurance payments to Nebraska families, the Institute of Life Insurance reports.

The payments were in addition to $12,030,000 of death benefits paid and compare with payments of $12,945,000 to living policyholders the year before.

The "living benefits" include matured endowments, disability benefits, annuity payments, cash surrender values paid out and dividends to policyholders.

"Living benefits have become an important part of the flow of funds paid by the life insurance companies to their policyholder families," Holgar J. Johnson, Institute president, commented.

"More and more families are setting up life insurance programs which call for specific living benefits as well as the basic death benefits. Last year the total of all payments to policyholders and beneficiaries in this state amounted to $26,342,000."

Of the total living benefits received in Nebraska in 1952 $2,555,000 was for matured endowments; $520,000 for disability benefits; $2,485,000 for annuity payments; $3,337,000 for policy cash surrender value payments; and $5,415,000 for dividends to policyholders.

For the country as a whole payments were $4,146,978,000 in 1952, of which 56 per cent were for living benefits and 44 per cent for death benefits.

State's Oil Industry Growing

Nebraskans from Sept. 1, 1952, to Aug. 31, 1953, used 793,962,284 gallons of gasoline, kerosene, tractor fuel and burning oil, according to figures compiled by the Nebraska Petroleum Industries Committee and the University of Nebraska geological survey department.

The state's youthful but ever growing oil industry in the same period produced 4,832,679 barrels of crude oil, most of which was shipped to other states for refining.

Percentage-wise, therefore, Nebraska's oil wells produced slightly more than 24 per cent of the crude oil used for consumption purposes in a year's time.

Russell Lockwood, executive secretary of the state Petroleum Industries Committee, said the average daily production of crude oil now is 16,300 barrels a day. Except for about 700 produced in eastern Nebraska, he said, nearly all is being produced in the western part of the state.

Last year at this time, Lockwood said, the state was producing 7,900 barrels per day.

Several Nebraska towns will be celebrating National Oil Progress Week Oct. 11-17. Mayors are proclaiming the week, and several towns have indicated they are planning parades. Included are McCook, North Platte, Kearney and Grand Island.

Annual Bowl Bid Scrambles May Be On Way Out

Big Seven-Atlantic Loop Tieup Talk Not Denied

By RIF WATSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The late November scramble for New Year's Day bowl bids, an annual phenomenon of the college football season, appears to be on its way out.

Ever since formalization of the Big 10-Pacific Coast Conference pact making the Rose Bowl game a "members only" affair, selection of the bowl teams has gradually swung away from the one-time wild scramble to a cut and dried pairing of various conference champions.

Gone forever, apparently, are the days when bowl officials made frantic long distance telephone calls. When coaches with undefeated teams sat back to await the best offer and campuses buzzed with excitement about possible bowl bids.

Latest of the big four of bowl-dom—Rose, Sugar, Cotton and Orange—to swing towards two conference champions as regular performers in the Orange Bowl. Representatives of the Miami game met with officials of the Atlantic Coast and Big Seven Conferences in Durham, N.C. It was the climax to weeks of rumors about an annual tieup involving the New Year's Day game.

None of the officials present would say more than "no comment," but the Orange Bowlers appeared pleased at the results of the meeting. And there were no denials of the tieup rumors.

Thus with both the Rose and Orange Bowls closed corporations and one Cotton Bowl spot assigned to the Southwest Conference champion, only three New Year's Day berths would be available. And the Sugar Bowl almost always has the Southeastern Conference champion—or at least one of the SEC's best—in its lineup. Only five times in the bowl's 19-year history has the game lacked SEC representation.

And who's left over to be lapped for football's most remunerative honor? The Big 10 and Pacific Coast Conferences are out. The Ivy League and Southern Conference are not available.

Unless the Big Seven and Atlantic Coast Conferences let No. 2 teams take bowl bids, only the Southeastern and Southwest Conference also runs and the nation's top independent teams are in the running for Jan. 1.

Since Notre Dame, currently the nation's top-ranked team, does not go in for bowl games at all, only Georgia Tech of this week's top ten in the Associated Press poll is open to suggestions about bowls. All the others are in one or another of the conference groups.

A look at the record book shows how the field of "eligible" would be cut down by a Big Seven-Atlantic Coast Conference-Orange Bowl tieup. The Big Seven has sent 10 teams to bowls and the members of the New Atlantic Coast group have played in bowl games eight times.

What about the independents? Get out the book again and you'll find that Santa Clara in 1950 and Miami in 1946 are the only independents to win in the Orange Bowl since before World War II. The last non-conference winner in the Sugar Bowl was Fordham in 1942.

Iron Derby Today

Golf starting at 12:30 p.m. and dinner at 7 is the schedule for the final iron derby of the season to be held today at the Lincoln Country Club.

At the dinner prizes will be awarded to winners in the recently completed club handicap.

Huskers William Schabacker and Andrew Loehr, a pair of pretty fair country ends, will draw comparison with one of the nation's finest Saturday at Memorial Stadium.

This bit of criteria weighs 200, stands 6-feet-2-inches, and answers to the name of Frank McDonald. He is a candidate for All-America end honors.

"Big Mac" Andy Loehr possesses all the qualities of an All-American end," says Coach Andy Gustafson. "He's one of the greatest all-around ends I have seen in the past decade."

"He can do more things better than any other end we have ever had at Miami," chimes in Walter (Kerchew) Kichelski, the Hurricane end coach.

Big Mac first attracted attention during his freshman year for his spectacular blocking ability and his pass receiving. Against Clemson in the Gator Bowl that year he was the outstanding player on the field.

As a sophomore in 1952, he achieved a sensational season despite a poor showing by his teammates. All he did was grab 32 passes for 418 yards while under a heavy guard (he was the team's only receiver).

The comeback of single platoon football shoved Big Mac even further up the glory ladder, for he possesses rare defensive ability.

Says Gustafson: "He has size, speed, courage, aggressiveness and plenty of football savvy. Along with his obvious abilities he is equally valuable as a decoy, a blocker, a tackler and a team player."

That's the pattern on which we're comparing Messrs. Schabacker and Loehr. Gad—could anyone be that good!

Pat (INS) Robinson says if there's a valhalla for sports writers, the late Damon Runyon must be looking forth with glowing eyes at the comeback of Jockey Earl Sande.

For it was Runyon who immortalized the famous rider and he did so more than once.

It was just 30 years ago that Runyon wrote his story of the famous match race between the Rancocas Stable's Zev, winner of the Kentucky Derby, and Papyrus, the great French champion. As you know, the Peerless Sande piloted Zev to victory.

Runyon preceded his story of the race with these lines:

Why do you ask who won it? Zev had Sande up.

And Sande can ride for money, or marbles or golden cups. Stake horse or sellin' player, Say, when I want to win—Gimme a handy Guy like Sande.

Bootin' them babies in.

Seven years later, Sande rode Gallant Fox to victory in the Kentucky Derby and Runyon came through with these famous lines:

Say, have they turned the page Back to the past once more? Back to the race's ages An' a derby out of the year? Say, don't tell me I'm daffy. Ain't that the same ol' grin? Why it's that handy Guy named Sande. Bootin' a winner in.

We know that Runyon would have turned out another masterpiece had he seen Sande, wrinkled, bald, broke and now 54, making another comeback after 21 years since he last broke away from the gate.

We can imagine Damon with that secretive grin on his face winding up his new verse with: Yes, it's the same old handy Bald-headed guy named Sande Bootin' a winner in.

Overhauling the NEWS

By WALLY DeBROWN

If you wonder what to give your hound dog for Christmas this year, you'll be delighted to know that a New York store put on a style show for dogs recently.

Among the fashions for canine cuties were an evening gown with sequins, grey herringbone coats for town, polo coats for the country. For delicate dogs there was a red raincoat with matching hood to be worn with waterproof leather boots.

Dog coats in the show had pockets, placed just off of amidsips. This is great if your dog carries a handkerchief, or if he needs a date book to keep track of his acquaintances around town.

While we have no objections to a dog being better dressed than we are, we do question whether a hound would be happy in a red riding hood outfit, for instance. It looks as if the dogs in New York live a dog's life.

When a Rhode Island man was asked why he tried to outpace a police car after committing several traffic violations, he said, "I didn't want to be caught." NU-Miami Game May Prove Aerial Duel

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

A lengthy scrimmage on both offense and defense was the program for the Nebraska Cornhuskers Tuesday as all eyes were focused on the Saturday battle with Miami.

Coach J. William Glassford tossed a freshman squad, equipped with Miami plays, against the varsity defenders. The offensive session featured both the T-formation and single wing.

Glassford and Andy Gustafson, the Hurricane skipper, think this Saturday's game may develop into quite an air show.

The Huskers, more aerial-minded this year than they've been since 1950, averaged 110 yards per game in their first four contests, completing 27 passes in 56 attempts for a 482 average.

Miami, in three games, has thrown 45 times, completing 21 for 280 yards, an average of 93.3 per contest. Percentage-wise, the Hurricanes have connected on 46.7 of their tries.

Topping the Nebraska throw-in contingent is Little John Bordogna, Turtle Creek, Pa., who has heaved 22 completions in 46 attempts for 327 yards. For Miami the top throwers are Quarterbacks J. B. Johnston and Don James. Johnston has a 9 for 18 mark for 150 yards, while James, pointing for a new Miami career record, has hit 12 for 23 for 130 yards.

In the catching division, Nebraska's Dennis "The Menace" Korinek, Ulysses, has nabbed three for 140 yards; Co-Capt. Bill Schabacker, Minden, six for 88; Jim Yeisley, Coia, Ia., five for 84 yards; and Andy Loehr, Turtle Creek, Pa., 7 for 73.

Frank McDonald, a junior, and Sophomore Bob Nolan are the top Miami pass grabbers. McDonald has caught six for 79 yards and Nolan five for 62. Halfback Bill Smith has one catch to his credit, good for 58 yards.

The Hurricanes' rushing leaders are Fullback Jack Lowe with an average of 8.0 yards per try on 18 rushes; Smith 5.8 on 19; Halfback Dan Doshier 7.3 on 3; Halfback Whitely Roviore 4.7 on 19; Fullback Gordon Malloy 4.5 on 36; and Fullback Edward Oliver 4.0 on 12.

For the Cornhuskers, Halfback Korinek has the top rushing mark 5.7 on 34 carries. Halfback Bob Smith, Grand Island, has a 4.2-yard mark on 21 tries; Fullback John Edwards, North Platte, 4.0 on 2; Halfback Dirkes Rolston, Forsyth, Mont., 3.7 on 3; and Halfback Rex Fischer, Oakland, 3.4 on 39.

Coach Bill Glassford plans to start the same weighty Husker lineup he opened with against Pittsburgh last week. Five of the Nebraskans went the full 60 minutes as the Scarlet bowed 14-6 to the Panthers.

That No. 1 unit looks like this: Ends—Andy Loehr (180), Turtle Creek, Pa., and Co-Capt. Bill Schabacker (180), Minden; tackles—Ted Connor (220), Hastings, and Co-Capt. Jerry Minnick (220), Cambridge; guards—Max Kitzelman (230), Omaha; and Bob Oberlin (200), West Albia, Wis.; center—Jim Oliver (200), Shelton; quarterback—John Bordogna (180), Turtle Creek, Pa.; halfbacks—Bob Smith (190), Grand Island, and Dennis Korinek (172), Ulysses, and fullback—Ray Novak (215), Omaha.

In other previous contests the Huskers tied Illinois 21-21, but lost to Oregon 21-12, and to Kansas State 27-0. Miami has beaten Florida State 27-0 and Clemson 39-7. It lost to Baylor 21-13.

First-call alternates in that No. 1 lineup will be Rex Fischer, working with Smith, and Jim Yeisley, who will split duty with Novak.

Britt (bruised shoulder), along with sophomore ends Don Hewitt (twisted knee) and Dean Lux (bruised hand) come off the injury list. Hewitt and Lux have been out since before the Oregon game and should bolster a thin end contingent.

NEBRASKA

MIAMI

Miami Is Shooting For First Out-Of-Town Win

Lincoln Star Special

CORAL GABLES, Fla.—When the University of Miami Hurricanes set out for Lincoln this week to face the University of Nebraska Cornhuskers, they will be trying to win their first regular season out-of-town game since 1950.

Not since the Purdue, Pittsburgh and Florida battles in '50 have the Hurricanes been able to annex a regular season road trip in football. That year, the Hurricanes defeated each of their three out-of-town foes and went undefeated to earn an Orange Bowl bid against Clemson.

In 1951, Miami won a post season out-of-town game, defeating Clemson in the Gator Bowl.

Many obstacles confront Coach Andy Gustafson and his staff this week as they make the Hurricanes ready for the Nebraska journey.

One of the biggest is to bring the boys out of the clouds after a smashing 39 to 7 win over Clemson. "A letdown would be disastrous to us out in Nebraska," Gustafson said Tuesday.

"We must continue to improve each week because our opposition is getting tougher each ball game," Gustafson said. "Nebraska will be more rugged and tougher team than Clemson, especially out there on their home field," he said.

And he was quick to remind: "Nebraska certainly came up a lot to hold Pitt to a one touchdown win."

Gustafson believes the Hurricanes improved in the Clemson game over their performances against Baylor, but he's still concerned about Miami's passing, pass defense and the punting. Those three phases of the game will come in for a lot of work this week. It may be necessary for the Hurricanes to come up with a good aerial attack to move the ball against the Cornhuskers.

Against Clemson last week, the Hurricanes were able to gain only 49 yards through the air lines. Three Miami aeriels were intercepted.

Cyclone Breaks Leg

AMES, Ia. (AP)—The Iowa State College football squad lost Tuesday from the season Tuesday when the Junior end suffered a broken leg during a long defensive drill.

Lindstrom was the Cyclones' No. 4 end, but Coach Abe Stuber said with Barney Allemen's ankle injury it leaves that position "pretty thin."

Allemen, Iowa State's No. 1 end and top punter, still is a question mark for this week's game with Missouri.

Dosek Named Director

Edwin Dosek, Lincoln, was one of 29 men named Tuesday as directors of the Pop Warner-Cornack Foundation which boosts midwest football around the nation.

The foundation sponsors the Santa Claus Bowl football games held at Lakeland, Fla., each year for top kid teams.

Other directors include Gen. James A. Van Fleet and Crooner Bing Crosby.

Maher Is 'Hopeful' After Talks

John Maher, general manager of the Lincoln Chiefs, said "We're hopeful" at the conclusion of conferences with officials of the Milwaukee Braves in Milwaukee Tuesday.

Maher and Bob Suter, member of the board of directors of the Lincoln Baseball Club, conferred with Braves' General Manager John Quinn and Farm Director John Mullin.

"The talks were very satisfactory but there is nothing definite," Maher told The Star by telephone Tuesday night.

"We went over the players in the Braves' minor league organization and discussed with Mullin where he would most likely be strong and where he would most likely be weak."

The Chiefs have a limited working agreement with the Braves. Before leaving for the conference, Maher said "we will not expect the Braves to fill all our needs."

"We couldn't discuss anything definite on any players," Maher told The Star Tuesday night. "Mullin has ball players coming out of the service all of the time—only a few, but regularly. There are also some players who may not be around for spring training, since some are being called to the service all the time."

"But our meeting was very satisfactory and we're hopeful," Maher added.

Maher said he and Suter plan to return to Lincoln late today.

Baseball Reserve Clause Aired By Supreme Court

By HERB ALTSCHULL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court heard initial pleas Tuesday in an historic battle over the question of whether organized baseball violates the nation's anti-trust laws.

Leading the attack, attorneys for two former minor league players asked the high tribunal to outlaw "the much-disputed 'reserve clause,' the keystone of modern high finance baseball."

Defense attorneys relied heavily on a 1922 Supreme Court ruling that baseball is sport, not business, and does not fall under the anti-trust laws.

The hearing, limited to three hours, will continue Wednesday. Lawyers seeking to brand baseball as an illegal monopoly in restraint of trade based their arguments today on these main contentions:

1. Baseball is a commercial enterprise and thus is subject to the anti-trust laws.
2. It is heavily tied up with radio and television and is actively in the field of advertising.
3. Baseball exercises an illegal monopoly over the activities of its players and teams as well as its physical plants and exhibitions.

Howard C. Parke of Santa Barbara, Calif., representing one of the players, said that in his opinion the 1922 ruling should be overturned. He said baseball, with its ties-in with radio and TV, is a far different activity than it was back in 1922.

Norman S. Sterry of Los Angeles, representing baseball, argued that the anti-trust question was not involved in the appeals now before the Supreme Court. He said these appeals are based exclusively on the question of the legality of player contracts, particularly the reserve clause.

The controversial clause is written into all baseball contracts and puts a player under the absolute control of the club which owns his contract. The club may sell his services as it sees fit or keep him under its control, but the player may not make any deals of his own with other clubs.

Only an hour and 10 minutes of the allotted three-hour time limit was used up Tuesday.

Sterry told the court that the regulation of baseball was not its business. He suggested that Congress write laws spelling out just what baseball may or may not do.

Justice Harold Burton asked Sterry this question: If the court holds that baseball is not a commercial enterprise engaged in interstate activity, "What authority would Congress then have to regulate it?"

Sterry said he didn't mean to argue that baseball had no effect on interstate activities. And, he said, Congress has the power to regulate any local matter which has a direct effect on interstate activities.

Justice Robert Jackson asked Sterry if it were not true that the clubs control the radio and television rights in transmitting accounts of baseball games.

Sterry conceded that point, but said it had no bearing on the cases before the court.

Frederic A. Johnson, representing another player, countered that baseball is definitely within the province of interstate commerce because of its financial gain from radio and television, which the court already has held to be interstate commerce.

"Baseball has made a fortune in radio and television," Johnson said. This year, from TV alone, baseball made 75 million dollars, and that doesn't include what it got for the world series.

Vessels Clarifying Military Status

EDMONTON, (AP)—Ordered by his Oklahoma draft board to report for an Army medical examination, halfback Bill Vessels of the Edmonton Eskimos Tuesday left for the United States to clarify his military status.

Eskimo President Ken Montgomery said the order was "not unexpected." The club knew when it signed the 21-year old Oklahoma All-America that he was subject to the draft.

Accompanied by Eskimo Coach Darrell Ruff, Vessels went to Great Falls, Mont., to talk with draft board officials there. Special permission was given for the switch to the Montana center.

Pesek's Grid Tricks Drop Massive Foe

Jack Pesek called on his Husker football training to dispense with huge Man Mountain Dean Jr., in the third fall of the Fairgrounds wrestling main event Tuesday night.

The former Cornhusker end brought the mammoth one down with a firing tackle and pinned him with a body press in 5:55 to finish the match.

Dean had grabbed the first fall with a body press in 15:27 but Pesek came back with a dropkick and press in :52 for the second fall.

Newcomer Jean Baillargeon checked Maurice Roberbe with a series of back breakers in 15:24 and 2:23 for an auspicious introduction to Lincoln fans in the second match.

Joe Dusek and young Steve McGill battled to a 30 minute draw in the opener.

Bucceroni To Make Bid For Title Go

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—Dan Bucceroni, rated among the top heavyweight title contenders, takes on light-heavyweight Jimmy Slade tonight in the hope that a victory will help him to a February shot at Rocky Marciano's championship.

The 9 p.m. EST bout, scheduled for 10 rounds at the arena, will be nationally televised (CBS-TV).

Slade, of Norfolk, Va., a clever boxer, also sees the bout as a possible stepping-stone to a chance at the heavyweight title. He expects to weigh in today at about 180 pounds, or about 12 pounds less than his harder-hitting opponent from Philadelphia.

The champion Marciano will be on hand for the fight and is scheduled to referee the bout.

Husker Bordogna Pacing Big Seven Loop Passers

Nebraska Quarterback John Bordogna is the leading passer in the Big Seven Conference, according to figures released by the Big Seven office at Kansas City.

Bordogna has thrown 22 completed passes in 46 attempts for a total of 327 yards.

Other Huskers listed among the leaders:

Passing—Rex Fischer, 8th; Running—Dennis Korinek, 8th; Fischer 12th.

Bratkowski Tops Nation's Passers

NEW YORK (AP)—Led by Georgia's Zeke Bratkowski, who has taken over the passing leadership, a few familiar names are appearing with a host of newcomers dominating individual offense among the nation's major football colleges.

Although Georgia was beaten 40-13 by undefeated Maryland Saturday, Bratkowski completed 16 passes for 202 yards and jumped from 11th place to first in rankings based on number of completions, figures of the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau showed Tuesday.

Bratkowski tied the 1953 single game high set by Northwestern's Dick Thomas against Army the week before and brought his total to 37 completions in 76 tries. His total of 529 yards gained through the air is also best in the country.

Don Ellis of Texas A&M is second in passing with 35 completions in 70 attempts for 384 yards.

In total offense, the leader with 637 yards is Joe Mastrogiovanni of Wyoming, followed by Paul Larson of California with 573 and Bratkowski with 527.

The rushing leader is Arizona's 160-pound Ken Cardella with 473 yards, followed by J. C. Caroline, Illinois sophomore with 463 yards. Caroline gained 192 yards for Illinois in its 41-20 victory over Ohio State.

The best single game ball carrying of the season was Dick Limer's 221 yards for Montana against Denver Friday night. Limer is third with 420 yards.

Lake Nears Completion

Construction of the Game Commission's newest lake near Royal is one-third completed according to an announcement made by the Department's construction supervisor, Eugene H. Baker.

Work now in progress consists of the laying of a dirt blanket (compacted dirt to keep water from seeping through fill) and driving sheet piling for cutoff wall under the spillway.

across the Madison goal on the first play from scrimmage to give his Neigh Warriors a 6-0 lead. In the second quarter the 155 lb. back broke a leg and was lost to his team. The Warriors played fine defensive ball and defeated Madison, 6-0, to snap a three game losing streak.

Couch Jack Bryant's best back will be lost for the season.

Other stars across Nebraska were these:

Dick Knaub—the Scottsbluff back ran 80 yards with a kick to lead the win over Lincoln.

Bob Klingens—Holdrege runner scored three times as his club beat Lincoln.

Glenn Hoy—the College View guard played his usual rugged game in the south.

Dick Nelson—McCook back ran well in the defeat of North Platte in important game.

Dick Miller—his 67 yard touchdown run started Columbus on road to first win of season. Plummerman—a little Falls City runner who can really move. His run against Plattsmouth was for 97 and 87 yards.

Donnie Miller—Hawthorn player ran 100 yards against victorious Elgin despite injured knee.

Kyle Glanz and Wayne Cox—Lincoln quarter back and end clicked on pass in late minutes for comeback win over Hastings, 19-24.

Don Hiett and Harold Moravec—Geneva boys were tough in the defense which checked

Friend. Roger Wank—his three scores helped Sterling to another victory.

Jim and Duane Wisel—brothers scored twice each in loss at strong victory.

Ken Feltz and Wayne Newman—Imperial players who sparred against Benkelman in tough game.

Larry Johnson—Wayne back ran 50 yards to beat Stanton, 7-0, in game of the undisciplined.

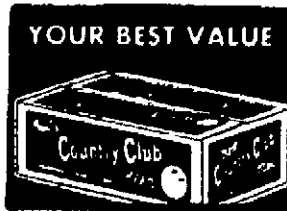

Dale McElchey and Jim Holton—their play for Meadow Grove stopped Orchard win streak.

Jim Hermann—terrible defensive play stopped Jangle attack as Alvo jumped.

Rod Puerpka and Jesse Mendez—their work upset fourth Napoleon. Mendez suffered concussion in game, now o.k.

C. E. Gillham, wild life expert and writer, will speak.

Nebraska, Wyoming and Colorado State Game Commissions will be represented, the former by Paul T. Gilbert, executive secretary.

Puts New Life in Your Car

New Conoco Super Gasoline

with TCP

The Greatest Gasoline Development in 31 Years

Whether you drive a new car, with just a few thousand miles on the speedometer, or an older model that's seen years of service, here's great, good news for you. New Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP, the most important advance in gasoline since the introduction of tetraethyl lead in 1922, can put new life in your car. Yes, with new Conoco Super, the average motorist can—

- Boost power as much as 15%!
- Increase spark-plug life up to 150%!
- Get extra gas mileage, too!

That's because this great new kind of gasoline actually stops the greatest cause of power and fuel waste affecting most of the cars on the road today.

Combustion deposits drastically reduce power

When you drive your car, deposits constantly build up on spark plugs and in the combustion chambers. These deposits can "cheat" you of power in two ways. First, they short-circuit spark plugs—causing them to mis-fire. Second, deposits in the combustion chambers cause fuel to ignite before it should. This is called pre-ignition or "wild ping." The combined effect of mis-firing and pre-ignition is loss of power, lack of "pep" and wasted gas.

*Trademark owned and patent applied for by Shell Oil Company

How Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP works

Now Conoco Super with TCP—a cresyl compound—dramatically overcomes loss of power and fuel caused by combustion deposits. TCP actually neutralizes harmful deposits on spark plugs and in combustion chambers. With new Conoco Super your plugs spark as they should. Your fuel ignites as it should. You get "new car" performance.

See what Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP can do for your car

Start the "TWO-TANK TEST" today

1. When your gasoline tank is one-quarter full or less, fill it with Conoco Super with TCP. Now, there will still be some ordinary gasoline mixed in with your Conoco Super, so...

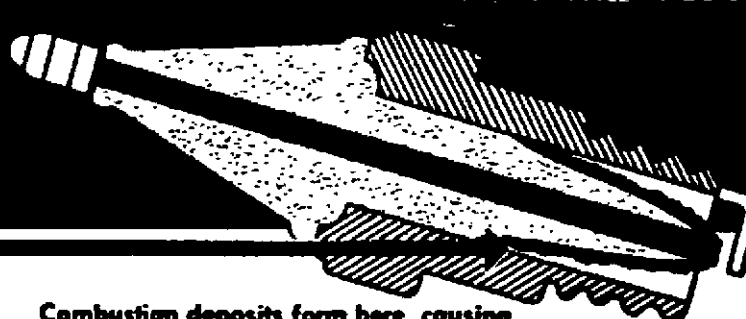

2. Make sure your next tankful is Conoco Super, too. So rapidly does Conoco Super work that with this second tankful, chances are you'll feel as if your engine has had a tune-up. You'll feel a boost in power. Try it today! We're sure you'll stay with Conoco Super.

TCP helps your car—whether new or old

If you have a new car, with a high-compression engine, it will keep on delivering its built-in power as long as you use Conoco Super Gasoline. If your car is older, it will restore much of the power you have lost.

CROSS SECTION OF TYPICAL SPARK PLUG

Combustion deposits form here, causing mis-firing and loss of power. TCP neutralizes these deposits, giving top power and performance.

Conoco Super with TCP is at your Conoco dealer today. Don't wait another day to start using this new kind of gasoline—the greatest gasoline development in 31 years!

Now—exclusively at your Conoco dealer!

Plainsmen's Offense 282 Yards A Game

A pair of ineffective offensive performances two weeks in a row have pulled Nebraska Wesleyan's offensive football record far below the average the Plainsmen maintained in their first three outings.

But the Lincoln club continued to move at an average of 282.8 yards per game, statistics disclosed, behind the running of Cliff Kahl and Rollie Wieggers and the improved passing of Wieggers and Marvin Macy.

Kahl's 491 yards gained on 56 tries has netted 95 yards per contest and 8.5 per try for the individual rushing leadership. The Big Springs speedster also leads in total offense with a game average of 98 yards and in scoring with a total of 42 points on seven touchdowns.

Wieggers has thrown 31 passes, completing 15 for 199 yards and a single touchdown and Macy has completed eight out of 24 for 107 yards and one score. Kahl has been on the receiving end of seven tosses for a net gain of 82 yards.

Student Migration Set For Tiger Tilt

The Nebraska-Missouri Victory Bell game has been named Migration Day for Cornhusker students.

The Huskers will go to Columbia Oct. 24 and the Innocents Society, men's honorary group on the campus, will deliver the traditional Bell to the Missouri men's honorary society. Because of last year's win the Tigers will keep the bell.

The Husker band also will make the trip.

Seven With 'No Personal Ax To Grind' Named To Highway Advisory Committee

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

The seven-man State Highway Advisory Committee created by the last Legislature was appointed by Gov. Robert Crosby Tuesday, the last day possible under the 30 day limitation given him under the law for appointments.

The governor said he would call the committee together for organization within two weeks.

Metzger Hanna
named in the law, be bonafide residents of the state for three years and not more than four affiliated with the same political party.

The governor said that in addition he himself restricted membership to persons with "no personal ax to grind."

He explained that by this he meant no persons allied with road building or users interests or those active in promoting an individual highway.

Members named by districts are:

1. C. E. Metzger, Cedar Creek, farmer, cattle feeder and former member of the Legislature. He was twice president of the Omaha Livestock Exchange. He is a Democrat. (Four years.)

2. Arthur L. Coad, Omaha, president Packers National bank and active in conservation work. He is a Democrat. (Two years.)

3. Merle Kingsbury, Ponca attorney, active in civic affairs and vice-commander of the American Legion. He is a Republican. (Four years.)

4. Arthur Albrecht, Deshler, operates his own farm and is active in Lutheran church activities and rural fire prevention. He is a Democrat. (Two years.)

5. W. O. Collett, North Platte real estate broker and formerly president of the bank of Brady and manager of the North Platte Chamber of Commerce. He is a Republican. (Six years.)

6. Don E. Hanna, Valentine rancher and former member of the legislature and county commissioner. He is a Republican. (Six years.)

7. Fred Attebery, Mitchell, farmer and rancher residing in Sioux County. He is a Republican. (Two years.)

The governor said the board was selected from more than 100 names recommended to him by various groups and citizens. He explained that he considered it "well balanced" and one that gave "due recognition" to agriculture which he considers it deserves in this state.

Gov. Crosby said that he could truthfully say that he does not know the personal opinions of the commission members on the various points of dispute in recent years over the highway program.

Watch Out for 1954 Warn The Great Prophecies

A strange man in Los Angeles, known as "The Voice of Two Worlds," is offering, free of charge to the public, an astounding 64 page book analyzing the great world prophecies covering these times. It shows that four of the greatest prophecies could not come true until the present time. But now they can, and world-shaking events are due. He believes everyone should prepare at once for the fateful crisis. Thus many people will avoid catastrophe.

"The Voice of Two Worlds," a well known explorer and geographer, tells of a remarkable system that often leads to almost unbelievable improvement in power of mind, achievement of brilliant business and professional success and new happiness. Others tell of increased bodily strength, magnetic personality, courage, and poise.

These strange methods were found in far-off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. He discloses how he learned rare wisdom and long hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled him to perform amazing feats. He maintains that these immense powers are latent in all of us, and that methods for using them are now simplified so that they can be used by almost any person with ordinary intelligence.

The 64 page book he is now offering free to the public offers guidance for those who wisely wish to prepare themselves and their affairs for the great crisis ahead. It gives details of what to anticipate, and when. Those who do pull through will have little to fear, because a glorious era will follow. Meantime, it says, "Beware of These Days!"

The book formerly sold for a dollar, but as long as the present supply lasts, it is offered free to readers of this notice. This liberal offer is made because he expects that many readers will later become interested in the entire system of mind power he learned in the Far East and which is now ready to be disclosed to the western world.

For your free copy of the astonishing prophecies covering these momentous times, as revealed in this 64 page book, address the Institute of Mental Physics, 213 South Hobart Blvd., Dept. H-214, Los Angeles 4, Calif. Send no money. Just your name and address on a postcard or in an envelope will do. No obligation. Readers are urged to write promptly, as only a limited number of the free books have been printed.

Pageant Will Be Given At Drive Rally

Chest-RC Campaign Goal Is $428,266

A pageant on the activities of the Community Chest agencies and the Red Cross will be featured at a rally of workers for the 32nd annual Chest campaign at 6 p.m. Wednesday at the Cornhusker Hotel.

The pageant, depicting the services of the agencies, will be given instead of the usual speeches, Willard F. Townsend, general chairman, said.

Goal of the united campaign for the 29 Chest agencies and the Red Cross is $428,266, the largest in the history of Lincoln. This includes $118,000 for the Red Cross.

"The Chest and Red Cross have been working toward this goal for some time for only one united campaign," Townsend said.

Saving Seen

"By such a united effort the community will be saved $6,000 to $8,000. To make it a success, people must give as much or more than they used to give in two campaigns."

The pageant will be directed by George Randol with Miss Janice Osborn, University YWCA secretary, assisting.

Dinner music will be presented by the Northeast High School string ensemble, directed by Morris Collier.

The workers will receive material, prospect cards and their assignments for the soliciting which starts Thursday.

York College Title Decision Is Appealed

YORK, Neb. (AP) — Attorneys for York College filed notice of appeal in District Court Tuesday from Judge Harry Landis' refusal to remove restrictions in the title to the property on which York College buildings stand.

The appeal will ask the State Supreme Court to determine the legality of the trust, which in 1892 deeded the school campus to the York College board of trustees.

College spokesmen said that the appeal and the resultant decision will have no effect on the building program approved for the college by its trustees last week.

The original deed to the college property provided that no mortgage should be placed on the campus or building nor should they ever be "alienated or encumbered." It stated that in case of a violation of this restriction the property should revert to York County.

The case was begun when the Evangelical United Brethren Church instructed the college trustees to have the restrictions removed and obtain a title in fee without restrictions or the church would withdraw its support.

Appeal Transcript

Transcript in the appeal of Harold L. Benson in a Buffalo County traffic case was filed with the Supreme Court clerk Tuesday. Benson was fined $100, sentenced to 30 days in jail, and lost his driver's license for a year on a charge of reckless driving. He was fined another $50 for speeding.

Kearney, Waverly FFA Chapters Cited

Activities Net Gold Emblems

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Two Nebraska chapters of the Future Farmers of America—Kearney and Waverly—received gold emblem awards Tuesday for outstanding activity records during the 1952-53 school year.

The Nebraska chapters were among 45 chapters thus honored. Twenty-nine other chapters received silver emblem awards, 18 bronze and five honorable mention during the ceremony at the FFA's 25th annual convention here.

President Eisenhower is scheduled to address the FFA, the world's largest farm boy organization, Thursday.

Farm Loan Group Two-Day Meet Set

OMAHA (AP)—Secretary-treasurers of 181 co-operative National Farm Loan Associations in Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming will meet here Thursday and Friday.

Ole H. Olseth of Huron, S. D., president of the four-state federation, will conduct Friday morning's session.

There also will be talks by Mrs. Lorena Hahn, U.S. representative to the United Nations Council on the Status of Women; Earl F. Crouse, editor of the Doane Agricultural Digest; E. N. Van Horne, president of the Omaha Land Bank; H. A. Viorgut, vice president of the bank; T. A. Maxwell Jr., treasurer; Raymond Sayre of Ackworth, Ia., farm credit director; and Sam Bober of Newell, S. D., National Farm Loan Association president.

'Standard Cut Not School Cure'

OMAHA (AP)—Lowering standards won't solve the teacher shortage, President William A. Early of the National Education Association said in an interview here.

In fact, "it works the opposite," he asserted. The reason for this, Early explained, is that when standards are lowered "you lower the status of the teaching profession. And young people will shy away from it."

Early, superintendent of schools for Chatham County and Savannah, Ga., said that in spite of increasing demands for teachers, an estimated 400,000 have left the profession in three years.

"The average person doesn't stay in it for more than four years," he said. "Poor pay is the big reason. It is not because those who train to be teachers don't like to teach. They'd like to stay in it. But they simply can't pay the bills if they do."

He cited the case of a person who resigned a $2,900 job as a county school superintendent in Nebraska to take a $8,500 job with a textbook company showing teachers how to use the company's textbooks.

"If that person was worth $6,500 on that kind of a job then he was worth the same amount as a county superintendent," Early declared.

Dr. Pusey Of Iowa Installed As President Of Harvard

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Dr. Nathan Pusey was installed Tuesday as the 24th president of Harvard University, the oldest in the United States.

As he took over leadership of the 300-year-old university, he said "our responsibility for the development of western civilization is now greater than ever before."

And he pledged his administration to furthering Harvard's major concerns—the education of youth and the advancement of learning.

In his brief acceptance speech, Dr. Pusey, native of Council Bluffs, Ia., said:

"It shall be my purpose to try to keep assembled here the very best scholars and teachers that can be found, to work to ensure conditions conducive to strive for effective ways to make their activity touch, quicken and strengthen the intellectual aspirations of succeeding generations of young people."

He told a gathering of 200—all that could crowd into the faculty room of University Hall—that Harvard is "the growing edge of a great tradition."

The installation ceremony itself was a simple ritual dating back to Harvard's early days 300 years ago. Pusey was the first non-easterner ever named a Harvard president.

Dr. Pusey is a Harvard-educated man who returns here at 46 after a teaching career which led him to Lawrence College at Appleton, Wis., in 1935. He became president of Lawrence 10 years ago.

Oman Found Guilty In Manslaughter Case

OMAHA (AP)—Auguster L. Washington, 33, was found guilty of manslaughter Tuesday in the fatal shooting of Albert Clark Kennedy, 42, in a fight at a bar last May.

The District Court jury deliberated four hours. Judge Carroll O. Stauffer deferred sentence.

Plattsmouth Resident Treated For Injuries

PLATTSMOUTH, Neb. — A Plattsmouth resident, Robert T. Whelan, 39, is recovering in an Omaha hospital from injuries received when a tractor rolled down an embankment, pinning him underneath.

Whelan was using the tractor to level off land where he plans to build a new home.

Detroit Studies Sales of "Continental" Studebaker

By a WALL STREET JOURNAL Staff Reporter

DETROIT—Studebaker, which was a big factor in setting early-postwar auto styles, may now be setting the pattern for the next few years.

Its 1946 model, designed with lavish use of glass by Raymond Loewy, was the first completely redesigned postwar car. The South Bend, Ind., concern made no further major change until its current 1953's, with these R introduced low, sleek "Continental" styling. Also designed by Loewy, the new model cost $27 million to introduce, double the 1946 cost.

A top Detroit stylist, employed by a rival manufacturer, says that the current Studebaker will affect the future looks of more competitive makes than the industry would like to admit.

Save big money on a used car

Co-Op Aid For ROKs Is Urged By CCA Head

Extensive use of the methods and principles of American farm cooperatives in organizing the U.S. government's aid program for South Korea was advocated in a speech here Tuesday by the president of the Consumers Cooperative Association.

Howard A. Cowden of Kansas City, Mo., president and general manager of the CCA, spoke at the association's meeting at the Cornhusker Hotel.

More than 300 persons representing about 50 farm supply cooperatives in southeastern and central Nebraska that are affiliated with CCA were in attendance.

"There is no question but that the United States is going to pour vast sums of money into the rebuilding of South Korea," Cowden said, "and there is no question but what we should. But why shouldn't we say at the outset that cooperative self-help is going to be the rule to the fullest possible extent?"

"If we could start with a program based on cooperative principles and practices, we could help the Koreans at less cost to ourselves and with tremendously greater benefits to them."

He outlined a program which would follow these general lines:

1. Establish a central financing agency that might be patterned roughly after the Farm Credit Administration in this country. This agency would be a dispenser of funds supplied by the U.S.

2. Study every reconstruction problem from the standpoint of whether or not it might be approached from the cooperative angle. Where cooperative methods could be applied, encourage them above all others.

3. Draw on the experience of cooperatives in the U.S. and other countries for the organization of farm marketing and producing co-ops; electrification co-ops; housing and medical co-ops; credit unions; and any others that conditions might suggest.

He reported that Consumers Cooperative Association's volume for the fiscal year ending Aug. 31 was approximately $85 million. More than half of this represented the handling of petroleum products from four farmer-owned refineries, including the one at Scottsbluff. This volume is a gain of about 2 per cent above the previous year. CCA is owned by some 1,600 local farm supply co-ops in nine states. It handles feed, fertilizer, and other items, in addition to its petroleum lines.

BEARING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Bugs' Boer
Most of these nationwide polls prove there's many a slip between the cupped ear and the lip.
Back in 1929 I voted wet 26 times in as many states. When the judge asked me how I could be that unethical I told him I had a bicycle.
Information at the grass-roots level isn't any more nutritious than statistics on a hay-wagon. Your farmer believes in the law of supply and demand. Let the white-collar man shoot his own cuffs.
If the farmer has the supply he's going to demand plenty. And while the city voter is trying to make both ends closer the weed-bender is farming the highway to California and Florida.

WISHING WELL By William J. Miller
Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to tell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. They read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Farm Program Concern Partisan Inspired—Butler

U.S. Senator Hugh Butler attributed Midwest concern over the federal agriculture program to partisan inspiration and gave assurances here Tuesday that "The Congress meeting in January can be relied upon not to make any changes in the existing program lacking the support of organized agriculture and the farmers generally."

Butler did not comment on the administrative policies and action of the Department of Agriculture under Secretary Benson, but he told the annual meeting of the Nebraska State Grange that "the program is the same as it has been the past six years and will continue in existence at least until 1954. Whatever modifications and improvements in it Congress may make will be within the framework of what already exists."

Butler spoke at the Grange's first day luncheon, opening a three-day meeting at the Lincoln Hotel. He also predicted early statehood for Hawaii, but not for Alaska; advocated return to open trade in gold, maintenance of the existing federal debt limit, reduced foreign aid spending with greater strength in both morally and materially at home, and forecast additional releases of government-held resources to private use akin to the recent grant of tideland oil rights to the states.

Butler's address followed the morning message of State Grange Master H. C. Filley who attributed the tightening of the agricultural economy to "the high price of goods we buy" and to "the recent careful avoidance of the State Legislature of any constructive legislation to clear the existing tax muddle."

Filley advocated a return to the gold standard, a balanced federal budget, loyalty oaths for educators, adoption of the Bricker amendment to safeguard against constitutional change as the result of treaty-making, and guarding against Communist infiltration of churches and schools.

He pointed to the past year's 14 per cent growth in Grange membership and said that new Granges could be formed in the coming six months easier than in any preceding time in the past 25 years.

Home Of Their Own

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—Thieves who invaded a nearby ranch were looking for a home of their own. They took a large quantity of plumbing fixtures, a washing machine, a stack of lumber, a saw and joiner and other building equipment and materials.

State Was Ignoring Tax Law

Nebraska had "strayed far from the path of lawfulness" prior to last winter's Supreme Court decision in the Laflin case, Gov. Crosby commented Tuesday.

"No assessors even pretended that they were setting values at full market price, and most property was assessed at less than half its actual value. Also, each county had a different standard, some having strayed less far than others from the legal requirements," he continued.

The governor's comment was included in the second of a series of open letters addressed to fellow townspeople of the city of North Platte, where the State Board of Equalization, of which the governor is chairman, recently raised real estate assessments 207 per cent.

According to information gathered by the state tax commissioner, real estate in North Platte was assessed at only about 14 per cent of actual value before the Supreme Court decision precipitated action by the state board and the Legislature.

to sleep in his room he had placed a billfold containing $25 under his pillow. When he awoke, billfold and money were gone. So was the pillow.
